Happy Thanksgiving

Every year, Sally Kelly and family, friends and volunteers prepare a free Thanksgiving dinner for anyone who wants to participate. This year, the dinner will be held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Nov. 27.

Free Thanksgiving dinner open to all

BY SHANNON JENKINS
Staff Writer

Every year around early November, one Bay St. Louis woman hits every grocery store from Waveland to East Biloxi in order to offer a free dinner for the community at Thanksgiving.

Sally Kelly said she asks the stores for donations, and store representatives usually give her gift certificates ranging from $10 to $20.

She then buys food and prepares a massive meal with the help of her family and other volunteers for a Thanksgiving feast at the American Legion, located off Highway 90 and Green Meadows Boulevard in Bay St. Louis. The dinner will be held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

on Nov. 27.

"Everyone is invited," Kelly said. "It's not just for the needy."

The dinner includes sliced turkey with gravy, stuffing, mashed potatoes, salad, a vegetable, dessert and iced tea, coffee or milk.

Kelly said the meal is free to all communities and serves individuals and large and small families. Guests may dine in or carry out.

The free dinner began about 18 years ago when Kelly's daughter and son-in-law, Beth and Cecil Scarbrough, decided to give back to the community.

The Scarbroughs once owned Mr. C's in Bay St. Louis but have since closed the doors.

Last year, Kelly said about 300 people were served.

She hopes to serve about 350 people this Thanksgiving.

"It's nice to be with other people if you are away from home or don't have a family," she said.

Food pantry to offer Thanksgiving food Monday - Wednesday

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul of St. Claire parish in Waveland and the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Our Lady of the Gulf parish will combine resources with the Hancock County Food Pantry. The purpose of this joint effort is to provide Thanksgiving groceries to those in need in Hancock County.

The two St. Vincent de Paul conferences will bring their donations of groceries to the food pantry on Sunday, November 22nd. Distribution will begin on Monday the 23rd, Tuesday the 24th and Wednesday the 25th between the hours of 9AM and 3 PM.

With the help of volunteers, the food pantry will organize and arrange the groceries for ease of distribution.

Both presidents of the St. Vincent de Paul Conference of St. Claire and Our Lady of the Gulf parish, Emile Comar and David Treutel, Sr. feel this new way of providing help will reach a larger group of needy in Hancock County.

Tom McCormick, director of the Hancock County Food Pantry also feels this new method of distribution will reach more people with more groceries. Both conferences provided food to over 400 families last year.

The two St. Vincent de Paul conferences and the Hancock County Food Pantry are United Way Agencies.

'Be Our Guest' at Bayou Talla this Thanksgiving

Bayou Talla Fellowship Church, Hwy 43, Kiln, will again be hosting its annual Thanksgiving Turkey Dinner at the church. According to Pastor Mike Wells, "This special event was begun to demonstrate to our community our gratefulness to Jesus Christ for allowing our church to be a vital part of this North Hancock Community. We would like the community to be our guest on Thanksgiving Day."

There will be no charge for the home cooked meal and everyone in the community is invited. Lunch will be served at the church from 11:30 - 1:30. Special deliveries are available for those who cannot come to the church by phoning 255-1118.

St. Rose de Lima Choir Thanksgiving concert takes place this Tuesday

THE SEA COAST ECHO

There will be no admission charge for the concert; however, there will be a basket in the rear of the church for non-perishable foods, grocery store gift certificates, and monetary donations.

The proceeds will be for the needy of the community. This is an opportunity to hear Gospel singing at its best. Under the direction of Al Acker, the 30 plus member choir has performed from New Orleans to Atlanta.

Concerts and performances include New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival; the House of Blues; The Biloxi Blues Fest; Toast to the Coast and everything from county fairs and expos to weddings, funerals, revivals and conventions. They opened for Ray Charles and Pete Fountain.

Deadline for Doll and Toy Fund registration

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Families needing assistance for Christmas have until November 26 to register for the Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund managed by the Bay Saint Louis Fire Department.

Those needing help are required to bring proof of Hancock County residency, such as a utility billing receipt or local tax receipt, and proof that they are the parent or legal guardian of the child or children. Requests for children newborn to 12 years old are accepted with their social security card identification or birth certificate.

Registration is conducted between 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. Monday through Friday at the fire station, 301 Old Spanish Trail.

The Bay Saint Louis Fire Department has conducted annual drives for new toys to help those in need for more than 20 years.

Last year, the department helped over 1,200 children have a brighter holiday.

The Doll and Toy Fund is financed through private civic and corporate donations, income from the annual Blast in the Bay car show and the support of the City of Bay Saint Louis. All monies received are spent in Hancock County for the children of Hancock County. "We do our best to help as many families as we can, without duplicating the services of other agencies. Because of our reputation for fairness and generosity we have received great support from our Hancock County community," said Gary Maurice, Doll and Toy Fund Administrator.

The Doll and Toy Fund was started by former fire chief Andrew Lizana who passed the responsibilities on to Maurice when he retired.

"Gary has dedicated thousands of hours to the Doll and Toy Fund throughout the many years of its operation. Gary, along with Tammy Garber, operate the fund efficient and effectively and we are all proud of their efforts," said Mayor Eddie Favre.

For additional information about donating to the Doll and Toy Fund or assistance information please call 228-467-4736 during regular business hours.

New toys may be dropped off at Trendsetters, 107 Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis. Anyone wishing to participate as a drop-off center, please call 467-4736.

Waveland working on sewer upgrades

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Sewer upgrades totaling up to $1.2 million should get underway in 2004 in Waveland. The upgrades will be made possible by a C.D.B.G. Grant and some matching funds for the city, likely a 60/40 split with the city coming up with 40 percent of the funding as a match to grant funds, said Mayor Tommy Longo.

Upgrades will completely refurbish sewer lines in an area beginning at Waveland Ave., north of the railroad tracks and stretching west to the city limits, replacing old and outdated ceramic piping and tightening collection systems and eliminating infiltration into sewer lines.

A new 16 inch force main will also be added in the mid city area.

The upgrades will benefit the area south of the tracks also, Longo said, by relieving pressure on lift stations in that area.

The new system will eliminate any backups also, he said, which have been a problem for some residents in the past.

The Waveland Ave. area upgrades will bring sewer service to 32 homes in the area that now depend on septic tanks for wastewater treatment.

Another added bonus of tightening the collection system will be lower treatment costs at the Southern Regional treatment plant, Longo said. Treatment is based partly on volume and strength of wastewater and tighter systems will reduce the volume sent for treatment.

In other business:

The city will receive a Tideland's funds grant for $195,821.23 for the Phase IV upgrades to the Garfield Ladner Pier. The grant will be presented to the city at the December 17 board meeting.

The city is working with MDOT on a grant to bring lighting Hwy. 90 and Hwy. 603 and to resurface and add sidewalks to Old Spanish Trail from Hwy. 90 to the city limits.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Once again members of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department will be Santa's helpers for hundreds of local deserving children at Christmas.

Requests for children from newborns to age 12 years old are now being accepted at the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, 301 Old Spanish Trail through Wednesday, Nov. 26.

Those needing help need to bring proof of Hancock County residency, proof they are a parent or legal guardian of the child or children, and child's social security number.

Gary Maurice is the Doll and Toy Fund Administrator and has assistance from many of his fellow firefighters. Gary assumed the position with the retirement of former Fire Chief Andrew Lizana, who was at the helm from the Doll and Toy Fund's beginning.

The Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund generated over 20 years ago as a small project where firefighters would gather a few bicycles and make necessary repairs for deserving Bay children.

As demands increased, the Doll and Toy Fund became county-wide providing new toys. It also became an agency of the United Way of Hancock County and then an agency of the United Way of South Mississippi.

In addition to funds from the United Way, support is also received through private, corporate, civic, individuals, organizations, etc. Several organizations even hold special benefits.

Maurice and the Bay St. Louis Fire Department really needs to be commended for its leadership.

The Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund is really a community involvement program, and everyone who helps in any way should also be commended.

We should be getting colder weather with the month of December approaching rather rapidly.

Colder weather means the need for wearing warmer clothing and there are some families operating on a close budget.

If you are short on funds and in need of winter clothing for yourself are children, you may want to consider stopping by the Goodwill Store in Bay St. Louis.

Goodwill offers some very good deals on clothing. I dropped by the Bay Goodwill on Thursday and the racks seem to have a wide variety of clothing.

Many times clothing is donated because children have grown to larger sizes, or in the case of adults, their waist line has increased like yours truly.

By the way, the Bay Goodwill Store now has furniture at very good prices too.

In case you are new to the area, Goodwill's Store is located in the Bay Mall Shopping Center, Highway 90 and Dunbar Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

P.S. Donations of clothing are welcome too!

I know next Thursday is Thanksgiving, yet there are those who are beginning to start thinking about Christmas presents.

I noticed the Gift Shop at Hancock Medical Center, operated by the HMC Volunteers, has some very nice Christmas gifts on hand, so you may want to drop in and take a look.

HMC's Volunteers provide many services for our hospital and help in many ways.

The volunteers donate their time and talents to the community through our local hospital.

And, the Gift Shop is one of those ways.

Greetings from Flyover Country

Middle America - which includes most of the South, Midwest and West too often gets dismissed by liberal politicians and liberal interest groups who seem to look down on our values. They refer to the area between the East and West coasts as "flyover country."

The attacks on Judge Charles Pickering's conservative background and religious activity shows this acute divide. Yet, Senators from "flyover country" are striking back, letting the left know that we are here, we are part of America and we expect more, especially better consideration of our judicial nominees.

From the Senate

By U.S. Sen. Trent Lott

The Senate just conducted an almost 40 hour marathon debate on what is a judicial crisis - a complete breakdown of the judicial confirmation process being purposely organized by a few liberal Senators.

We want the extreme left to know that America's court system is for administering justice. It is not intended to be an alternative venue for implementing, through judges, their liberal ideas - proposals they have failed to gain popular support in the lawmaking, legislative branch of government.

Of course, examples of the left's hijacking of courts to do their political bidding are many. The numerous attacks on religious displays and the Pledge of Allegiance come to mind. For the latest, look no further than the partial birth abortion ban which President Bush just signed.

A huge majority of Americans oppose partial-birth abortion - the process of extracting a late-term baby from the womb and killing it with surgical instruments. Congress and President Bush agree, and we passed a law to ban this procedure.

Yet, already what liberals couldn't successfully defend in Congress or the court of public opinion, they are trying to slide through our organized judicial system, launching court challenges to the ban before the ink was dry.

This is why we need judges like Charles Pickering on the bench - a judge dedicated to enforcing your representative made laws, instead of making them himself.

What is a 'COLA'

BY SHAWN MERCER
Public Affairs Specialist
Social Security Administration

You are most likely to see the word "cola" in ads about those refreshing carbonated drinks that seem to go with every burger and fries.

But a "cola" can also be something just as refreshing (and much more important) to the elderly and disabled, to widows, widowers and children who have lost a parent.

Millions of Americans who get Social Security or Supplemental Security Income benefit payments receive an annual cost-of-living adjustment (COLA). It helps ensure that their benefit payments keep pace with inflation. Last month, Social Security announced that more than 51 million people will receive a 2.1 percent increase in their monthly benefit payments. The 2.1 percent COLA will show up in the January 2004 benefit payments for Social Security beneficiaries. And higher payments for Supplemental Security Income recipients will begin on December 31.

The COLAs are tied directly to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W). The CPI measures inflation as experienced by consumers in their day-to-day living expenses. Annual increases are higher during periods of high inflation and lower during periods of low inflation.

This is the 29th straight yearly rise in benefits since automatic cost-of-living adjustments began in 1975.

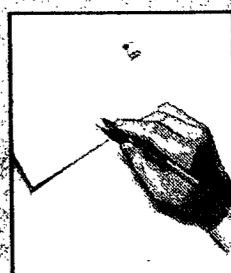

Many financial planners point out that the annual COLA is one of Social Security's most important features. Fewer than 20 percent of private pensions have automatic cost-of-living increases, according to the Employee Benefit Research Institute.

Without a COLA, retirement benefit payments could lose their purchasing power over time. For example, if the annual inflation rate were 4 percent, an item that costs $25 today would cost $50 in 18 years. This COLA protection becomes even more important as workers live longer after retiring-the average life expectancy for a 65-year-old today is more than 17 years, compared with about 12 years when the Social Security program began in 1935.

Here is a brief primer on the history of Social Security's COLA, and how it works.

Before 1975, it took an act of Congress to increase Social Security benefit payments. In fact, the first increase was not authorized until 1950, 15 years after the original Social Security Act was passed, and 10 years after the first monthly benefits were paid.

The automatic increases that began in 1975 were paid in July until 1983.

That year, as part of a package of reforms intended to strengthen Social Security's long-range solvency, the annual cost-of-living adjustment was delayed for six months. So, the COLA increase originally scheduled for July 1983 was not paid until January 1984. The COLA has been paid in January of every year since.

The highest automatic increase was 14.3 percent in 1980; the lowest COLA was 1.3 percent in 1999.

D'head native appears on CBS special

BY SHANNON JENKINS
Staff Writer

A Diamondhead native will appear on CBS's "Thanksgiving Day Special" on Thursday morning.

Along with fellow cast members, Ryan Chotto will perform a segment of the off Broadway show "Fame on 42nd Street," which opened Nov. 11 in New York at the Little Shubert Theatre.

The 19-year-old landed a role on the show after appearing on NBC's reality show "Fame" in June. Trina Cuccia, Chotto's mother, said he was one of 400 people who auditioned in an open call for the one role that was left.

According to www.newyorktheatreguide.com, the show is set in the 1980s at New York City's BSLLT offers 'Piano Lesson' in Dec.

Pulitzer Prize-winning play runs Dec. 5-14 on Boardman Avenue

The Bay St. Louis Little Theater will present its production of "The Piano Lesson," a Pulitzer Prize-winning drama by August Wilson, Dec. 5, 6, 12-14.

In an effort to attract a more diverse audience and cast and crew participation, this will be the first all-African American cast in a community theater on the Coast.

Boy Willie dreams of buying the same Mississippi land that his family had worked as slaves, and plans to sell the family's antique piano to raise the cash he needs. His sister Berniece refuses to sell, clinging to the piano as a part of the family legacy. The family dilemma is the real "piano lesson," a reminder that blacks are often deprived both of the symbols of their past and of opportunity in the present.

August Wilson is known for his spellbinding dramas including his first Pulitzer Prize-winning play Fences, and Ma Rainey's Black Bottom.

The cast includes Metric Dockins as Doaker, Stefan King as Boy Willie, John Ragins as Lymon, Judy Verrett as Berniece, Imani Joseph as Maretha, Allen Jenkins as Avery, Harold Wilkerson as Wining Boy and Shelly Hazeur as Grace.

Others involved are Charles Joseph, director; Rebecca Hardin, assistant director; and Scott Darrah, producer.

Show times are at 8 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 14.

Admission is $12 for adults, $10 for seniors and $7 for students 17 and below. The Bay St. Louis Little Theater, located at 301 Boardman Ave., has a general seating policy. Tickets will be available at the door on the night of the show, and doors open at 7:30 p.m.

Great Books Group to meet Nov. 26

"Conscience" by E. Kant and "Critique of Pure Reason" will be the subjects of discussion at the Great Books Discussion Group meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 26, at 7 p.m. in the Seal Room of the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

The selection is from "An Introduction to Great Books, First Series." Several copies are available for checkout at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

The Great Books discussion group, sponsored by the Hancock County Library System, has been meeting and discussing books since March, 1990. During that time, they read more than 345 titles from great books (Plato, Hobbes, Locke, deToqueville), Mississippi fiction, play readings and 20 philosophical questions.

The group meets every other Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The Great Books Foundation was established in 1947 by University of Chicago Chancellor Robert Manyard Hutchins. Its mission is to provide people of all ages, backgrounds and walks of life with the opportunity to read, discuss and learn from outstanding works of literature.

Today, more than 20,000 adults are members of Great Books discussion groups, and nearly one million students participate in Junior Great Books groups for grades kindergarten through 12.

Anyone is welcome to attend the meetings. The only requirement is that you read the selection before the meeting. For information, call Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

after his nomination by President Bush for a seat on the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals and following almost endless attacks on his character, including his active involvement in the Baptist church, liberal Democrats used parliamentary procedure to stop Mississippi's Judge Charles Pickering from getting a fair vote in the Senate and taking a seat on the Appeals Court. Judge Pickering's opponents played the race card first. After that was discredited, they attacked his service to the Southern Baptist church, as if he were a member of some bizarre cult. They've started the same sleazy campaign to block other conservative judicial nominees, including a well-qualified African-American conservative judge and Alabama native, and another female conservative judge from Texas.

Each time a well-qualified nominee gets attacked on the basis of their faith or philosophy, it makes the rift between liberals and Middle America even wider. My colleague Senator Zell Miller, a conservative Georgia Democrat, and even other Democratic standard bearers like former New York City Mayor Ed Koch and liberal stalwart Andrew Cuomo, have sounded a similar alarm: An extreme left wing in their party is alienating millions of Americans in heartland states.

Frankly, I'm not interested in the political party dynamic here or the fate of the Democratic Party.

politics should always be secondary to what's important for our country. For the good of our country and for our justice system, the practice of blocking good, qualified men and women from serving our nation must be stopped. I've made it clear to President Bush that it is imperative we find a way to end the dangerous, despicable filibustering of well qualified federal judicial nominees.

President Bush is keeping Charles Pickering's name up for consideration. Indeed, if given a straight up-or-down vote in the Senate today, Judge Pickering would be confirmed. Will liberals let Judge Pickering and other conservative nominees get fair consideration? We'll see. If not the President and majority of Senators who support Judge Pickering have other procedural options we can exercise. Until then, to all you who think conservatives, and particularly conservative Middle American Christians, have no place in America's judicial system or legislative process, I send you greetings from "flyover country." Our paths will cross again. Because there are a lot more folks in "flyover country" than you may think. We have a few more judges you'll want to meet, too.

The Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) now requires storm water permit coverage for small construction projects under five acres.

Coverage under MDEQ's Small Construction General Permit is now required for construction activities that disturb from one acre to less than five acres.

This includes existing small construction projects that started construction before March 10, 2003 and are still active.

This change in storm water permitting requirements is due to expansion of the current Phase I Storm Water Program by the United States Environmental Protection Agency. The Large Construction General Permit that covers construction projects five acres and greater remains unchanged.

"We have been regulating storm water runoff from large construction projects for years, but new federal regulations now require us to also regulate small construction projects. These are projects that disturb one acre to less than five acres of land by clearing, grading, or excavating.

This new program is designed to further reduce non-point source pollution, which is the leading cause of water quality problems in the United States today," said Jim Morris, Chief of the General Permit Section of MDEQ.

Unlike the requirements for the Large Construction General Permit, MDEQ does not require the submittal of information for the Small Construction General Permit unless specifically requested.

The basic Small Construction General Permit requirements are:

- Complete the Small Construction Notice of Intent (SCNOI) application form and keep the form on the project site or locally available.
- Develop and implement a Storm Water Pollution Prevention Plan (SWPPP).

- Inspect the site weekly and after rainfall events of a half-inch or more to make sure the sediment and erosion controls are still working. This information must be recorded and kept with the SCNOI.

All the requirements of the Small Construction General Permit can be found on the MDEQ website at http://www.deq.state.ms.us/MDEQ.nsf/page/epd_epdge_neral.

An owner/operator may discharge storm water associated with construction activity once the requirements of the storm water permit have been met.

The owner or contractor must complete the application form, as well as develop and implement the SWPPP before beginning construction activities.

MDEQ may visit the site and ask for the site documentation. If the documents cannot be produced or if the controls are not adequate, then the owner or contractor or both are subject to enforcement action, which may include penalties.

Jerry Cain, Chief of MDEQ's Environmental Permits Division, said, "There has been an inaccurate perception that the small construction requirements would be implemented over time after the March 10, 2003, effective date of the regulations. However, this perception is wrong and all of the small construction requirements became effective on March 10, 2003 as required by the federal regulations. Anyone dealing with a project that is subject to the small construction requirements and has not completed the Small Construction Notice of Intent and developed and implemented a Storm Water Pollution Prevention Plan 'needs to do so immediately.' contact the MDEQ Environmental Permits Division's Construction or General Permits Branch at (601) 961-5171.

Mississippi Disaster areas receive more than $1.9 million in federal, state funds

Mississippi Emergency Management Agency Director Robert Latham announced today that various Mississippi communities and public entities received more than $1.9 million in federal and state disaster-assistance funds in October.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency provided $1,826,026.90 in disaster assistance to areas that have been affected by natural disasters. MEMA provided another $89,984.54 in assistance, bringing the total amount to $1,916,011.44.

"We're committed to working with our cities and counties in providing whatever resources are available to help them as they rebuild critical infrastructure," Latham said. "This money not only helps to rebuild communities, but most importantly, it helps to rebuild the lives of our citizens who were affected by these storms."

Thirty-six different counties, cities, school districts, colleges and universities, electric departments, water associations and water districts received the funding as a result of the following federal and state disasters:

- Severe storms and tornadoes that occurred on Feb. 16 and 24, and March 12, 2001 and affected 50 counties in both South and North Mississippi.
- Severe storms that occurred between Nov. 24 and Dec. 17, 2001 and affected 33 counties in North Mississippi.
- Tropical Storm Isidore and Hurricane Lili, that occurred on Sept. 25 and Oct. 6, 2002, and affected 11 counties in South Mississippi.
- Severe storms and tornadoes that occurred on Nov. 10, 2002 and affected six counties in North Mississippi.
- Severe storms that occurred between April 6 and 24 and affected 31 counties in Central and North Mississippi.

and an expensive holding tank to be built into the system.

Next the district considered drilling a new well to an aquifer with clearer water, but tests showed that the clearest water comes from shallow aquifers which serve most of the private wells in the area. The aquifer simply did not contain the volume of water needed to serve the district's customers and maintain water pressure.

After going back to the drawing board with Calgon, district officials and Calgon have come up with a plan that has at least the preliminary approval of the Department of Health and the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality. Calgon will install a filter system, own it and maintain it while the district will pay them a fee per 1000 gallons for treatment, thus eliminating the need for a lengthy testing period and expensive holding tank.

Once final approval comes from the DEQ and the Department of Health, Calgon will be able to create and install the new filter system in 12 to 16 weeks, said district director Eddie Renz.

In other business: • Water operator Zoe Bretrius-Bowers met with Mississippi Fire Rating Bureau official Larry Carr and representatives from the East Hancock Fire Protection District to test the flow and pressure of new fire hydrants and perform a well inspection this week. If a new fire rating is approved, lowering the district's fire rating from a 9 to an 8, all the residents of the district will start saving from 15 to 18 percent on fire insurance premiums.

Officials said they are confident that the inspections went well and expect to receive a verdict on the new fire rating before Thanksgiving.

Annex -- organization

interests."

Spicuzza said that a as yet un-named "prominent coast attorney" has agreed to represent the groups efforts to block annexation proposals.

"People need to be kept informed about this issue," Spicuzza said.

One of the goals of the Fight Annexation Committee is to keep people informed of their rights, she said. While organizing the petition drive, the group held several meetings at a conference room at Mississippi Power, but have since lost their access to that facility, Spicuzza said. So the group is also looking for a place to hold community meetings.

Contributions to the legal fund can be made by mail to The Fight Annexation Committee at Post Office Box 2904, Bay St. Louis, MS. 39521-2904 or by calling Spicuzza. The group is also looking for residents who would like to volunteer as fundraisers for the legal fund.

Contrary to popular belief, residents in the affected areas do have a right to voice their opinions in the annexation proposals. They may do so by joining with the efforts of the Committee, by filing their written opinions with the court records at Chancery Court, or by appearing at the next scheduled hearings on the matter, or all three.

The next scheduled hearing is expected to be sometime in January, with both cities represented. For more information call Spicuzza at 228-466-6466.

Scooters -- safety concerns

expected to be one of the year's hottest Christmas gifts. The two-wheelers come in many sizes and designs for children and some large enough for adults.

However, Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil said last week, they can also be cause for concern.

Law enforcement agencies across the nation appear to be awaiting legislation on the mini-scooters, with many questions yet to be resolved.

McNeil said Thursday he is concerned with the safety of people using the scooters. Some of the vehicles are so small, he said, they cannot be seen by motorists before an accident occurs.

Since they are not as yet licensed, he said, they are not legally allowed to travel streets, so they should be used only on private property.

In some areas, law enforcement agencies recommend that riders avoid traffic and observe all rules just like bicycles.

Some are concerned that the mini-scooters have motors and should be licensed, and that drivers should be required to have insurance, required to have helmets, etc.

The scooters range in cost from about $200 to $800 and are sold in toy stores and many other outlets.

Scholarship Dinner in honor of the late Bishop Joseph A. Francis, S.V.D.

In honor of the late Bishop Joseph A. Francis, S.V.D., his fellow priests and brothers in the Southern Province of the Society of the Divine Word announce the celebration of the Fifth Annual Dinner to raise money for scholarships in his name, according to Fr. Joseph Simon, S.V.D., provincial of the Southern Province.

The dinner will be held at 6:00 p.m. on Saturday December 6 2003 at the University Center of Xavier University of Louisiana, the nation's only historically black and Catholic University, where Bishop Francis' brother, Dr. Norman C. Francis has served as president for more than thirty years. The keynote speaker will be the Most Reverend Roger P. Morin, Auxiliary Bishop and Vicar General of the Archdiocese of New Orleans. Bishop Morin has been a supporter of the Scholarship Fund since it began in 1999.

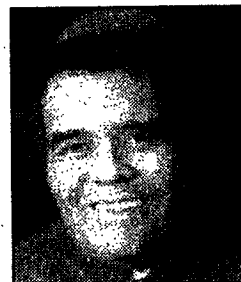

The idea for a scholarship fundraiser arose from the outpouring of support from the academic and religious community to continue the legacy of Bishop Francis shortly after his death in 1997.

Bishop Francis, a native of Lafayette, Louisiana and an ordained priest for 47 years, served as Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Newark, New Jersey for 19 years before he retired in 1995.

Since he was an outspoken leader in the Roman Catholic Church and a fierce advocate for social justice and educational equality, the religious family and friends of Bishop Francis hope to continue his life's mission. The Bishop Francis Scholarship Fund supports lay leadership development and vocations, especially in the African-American community and the multicultural communities where the Divine Word Missionaries serve in Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas and Tennessee.

Tickets for the dinner are fifty dollars. Reserved tables and corporate sponsorship levels are also available. For more information, please contact Fr. Tom Potts, S.V.D. at (228) 467-4322 or (228) 467-3815.

"Toolbox" to help coastal areas comply with new EPA regulations

Cities and counties along the Mississippi Gulf Coast faced with complying with EPA mandates on pollution are getting some welcome assistance from the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources' (DMR) Comprehensive Resource Management Plan (CRMP). To help Coast cities and counties successfully comply with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's regulations requiring them to implement stormwater management plans, the DMR's CRMP has developed a valuable resource known as the Mississippi Gulf Coast Stormwater Management Toolbox.

Two years in the making, this hefty two-volume guide to stormwater management rules and regulations was distributed to coastal city and county officials at the CRMP's October meeting to assist them in developing their plans to manage stormwater runoff and in selecting best management practices. It is a comprehensive collection of EPA-recommended best management practices on stormwater management and includes model ordinances and vendors lists.

Eco-Systems, Inc. was lead consultant on the stormwater toolbox project. Neel-Schaffer also played a role in the development of the toolbox.

"This is another prime example of collaboration and partnerships by city and county leaders who have been working on smart growth issues for the region for the past five years," said CRMP Director Tina Shumate.

In 1972, the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System program (NPDES) was established under the authority of the Clean Water Act. The Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality is delegated by EPA to run the state's NPDES programs. Phase I of the NPDES stormwater program was established in 1990. It required NPDES permit coverage for large or medium municipalities that have populations of 100,000 or more. There are no Phase I communities on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Phase II of the NPDES Stormwater program was signed into law in December 1999. This regulation builds upon the existing Phase I program by requiring smaller communities, also known as small municipal separate storm sewer systems (MS4s), to be permitted.

On the Mississippi Gulf Coast, there are 14 Phase II communities including: Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties; and the cities of Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Biloxi, D'Iberville, Gulfport, Long Beach, Pass Christian, Gautier, Moss Point, Ocean Springs, and Pascagoula. All these areas were named in the Federal Register and were federally mandated to develop and implement a Stormwater Phase II Program to manage stormwater runoff.

Those communities permitted under Phase II are required to develop and implement a comprehensive stormwater management program that includes six minimum measures: (1) public education and outreach on stormwater impacts; (2) public involvement/participation; (3) illicit discharge detection and elimination; (4) construction site stormwater runoff control; (5) post-construction stormwater management for new development and redevelopment; and (6) pollution prevention/good housekeeping for municipal operations.

Besides its value as a tool to assist the coastal communities in complying with the EPA's mandate to implement stormwater runoff and pollution management plans, the stormwater toolbox can also be used by the six southern counties and cities as a resource to better manage stormwater runoff in the future.

The toolbox was produced by the DMR/CRMP through funding from the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality, which administers the Mississippi Coastal Impact Assistance Program (CIAP). CIAP is a federally sponsored program that provides money for the state and counties to address issues that relate to the coastal environment and ecology.

The toolbox was designed to be a resource document for city and county engineers, public works directors, developers and contractors, road maintenance crews, city and county planners, and professional engineers for selecting measures to employ as part of their stormwater runoff management program. It also contains information that will assist local decision-makers with stormwater runoff management decisions and provide long-term benefits to the coastal communities.

"The toolbox is a valuable tool with a wealth of information that will promote water quality protection and management into the lifestyle of the coastal community," said Marcia Garcia, CRMP staff officer and project manager. "But it would not have been possible without the guidance and support from the CRMP stakeholders, the stormwater management committee, the CIAP coordinators, and representatives from each of the designated Stormwater Phase II entities."

CRMP is focused on the development and implementation of a comprehensive strategy and the necessary tools to better manage the impacts of economic growth and development on the environment of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources is dedicated to enhancing, protecting and conserving marine interests of the State by managing all marine life, public trust wetlands, adjacent uplands and waterfront areas to provide for the optimal commercial, recreational, educational and economic uses of these resources consistent with environmental concerns and social changes. Capo attends continuing education conference

Matthew Capo, a physical therapist and the president of Accelerated Physical Therapy Occupational Health in Bay St. Louis, attended a continuing education conference hosted by the American Physical Therapy Association, the Private Practice Section, in Jacksonville, Florida.

The conference was from October 22nd through the 25th and covered a wide spectrum of topics ranging from clinical techniques to government compliance and regulations pertaining to HIPAA and Medicare statutes.

The Mississippi regulations governing licensure of physical therapists requires continuing education of 24 contact hours every two years, an average of 12 per year. Capo has made a pledge to at least double that per year and, in fact, has already attended over 70 hours in 2003. In each of the last five years he has tripled the amount of continuing education hours that are required.

Fraud workshop

In the wake of recent high-profile fraud cases, nonprofits are under increasing scrutiny by both the public and by regulatory agencies. The Mississippi Center for Nonprofits will offer a course Dec. 3 teaching nonprofits how to be vigilant for fraudulent practices within their organizations.

The cost is $25 for members of the Center and $60 for non-members. For more information or to register, visit the Center's web site at www.msnonprofits.org or call 601-968-0061.

GERRY LANE

Former resident honored in LA

Gerry Lane, president of Gerry Lane Enterprises was awarded the 62nd Annual Golden Deeds Award before a crowd of over 550 at the Radisson Hotel and Convention Center on Tuesday, November 11. The award, presented annually by The Advocate, the local newspaper and the InterCivic Council of Baton Rouge, recognized Lane's contributions to his community.

"We teach our children if you do good to someone, it will be repaid to you in like measure," Lane said. He lives by a simple precept he inherited from his mother and passes on to his children, an idea that pays dividends in business and in life. The award was presented by Doug Manship Jr., publisher of The Advocate. "I'm just thrilled Gerry is getting recognized for the award he so richly deserves. People know that he does a lot for the community, but I think the extent to which he supports charitable causes gets lost. It's a small way for the community to pay him back," Manship said.

Lane made a name for himself as a shrewd car salesman, building some of the most successful car dealerships in the country. His four dealerships in the Baton Rouge area sell about 12,000 new and used cars a year. He views philanthropy as an extension of that success, and it is partly responsible for it.

Soccer team helping others

THE SEA COAST ECHO

When the Gulf Coast branch office of the Arthritis Foundation, located in Diamondhead, sent word of the need for "muscles" in an office relocation, members of the Gulf Coast United TSUNAMIS U12 Select Team came to the rescue. "Moving boxes, desks, shelves, books, and brochures are difficult for folks who have arthritis," said Phyllis Goodyear-Hahne, Branch Director. "There are two staff members in our office and both of us are limited due to arthritis. The assistance provided by this energetic group of 'helping hands, (and feet), asking nothing in return, was both refreshing and appreciated."

Although soccer is not a new sport in Mississippi, it has grown in popularity over the last four years. In fact, it is the fastest growing sport on the continent. It provides our youth with a fun, safe road to fitness and personal development, which can only benefit them as future adults. The Tsunami team is in its inaugural year. The boys are coached by Warren Arde, and managed by Mark Ryland. The club website is: www.gulfcoastunited.com.

Currently, out of four tournaments, the team placed first in one tournament and held finalist positions in three. They are ranked among the top 15 teams in the US. Excelling in regional tournaments and qualifying at a 3v3 tournament in Baton Rouge, has entitled them to play in a National 3v3 tournament in Orlando, Florida in January 2004. This team is doing a super job representing our area, and they need your help in raising funds to attend this upcoming event and future tournaments.

The Gulf Coast branch of the Arthritis Foundation is hoping many generous people will help this very talented group of young people to achieve their goal. They have shown not only the ability to work and play well, but to share team values through service to non-profit organizations.

Wildcats soar to the top in soccer

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The MACJC-Region XXIII champion Pearl River Community College Wildcats ended their historic soccer season with a 2-1 loss to Tyler Junior College in the Mid-Southwest District Tournament at Hinds in Raymond, but fifth-year head coach Adam Breerwood says the season-ending setback doesn't tarnish his team's far-reaching accomplishments in 2003.

PRCC made history Oct. 26 when it pounced host Hinds for its first-ever MACJC-Region XXIII championship to earn a berth in the district event. The Wildcats wrapped up their season at 17-3-2, the best-ever for a PRCC squad.

The Wildcats, who finished the year as the MACJC's and Region XXIII's top offensive squad, won the crown with a 3-1 victory over perennial powerhouse Hinds behind a three-goal effort from Drew Gallant of Forrest County AHS, a sophomore who transferred to PRCC from Springhill College in Mobile this past August to lead the Wildcats in scoring with 26 goals and 24 assists.

The win also avenged PRCC's 3-2 overtime loss to Hinds in the season opener back in late August.

From that point, the Wildcats won 12 straight until arch-rival Mississippi Gulf Coast pulled out a 2-1 victory in Poplarville Oct.

11. Heading into the overall title bout with Hinds, the Wildcats fully realized that the Eagles were the only team they hadn't beaten during the season.

"We talked about that," Breerwood said. "It was a motivating factor heading into the tournament, but we kept our heads and took it one game at a time. We were ready for Hinds when the situation arose."

Breerwood said Gallant had plenty of offensive and defensive help throughout the season, singling out the likes of sophomores Walt Thomas of Petal, Brennan Brooks of St. Stanislaus, and David Levens of Long Beach, along with freshmen Chris St. John and Austin Lovitt, both of Oak Grove.

"All of these guys did a phenomenal job of controlling the tempo of games and distributed the ball well. Their efforts put us in position offensively and defensively to win every time we stepped on the field."

Sophomore Stephen Kulikowski of St. Stanislaus was touted as "the best stopper in the state" by Breerwood. "Stephen is a great soccer player," he said. "He's the kind of guy that can shut the other guy down defensively, but score goals from the stopper position."

Freshman keeper Jarred Cooper of George County filled in a big question mark heading into the season.

"Jarred turned out to be

Breerwood added his deep bench talent was a "huge contributor to our success." Guys like Bubba Dedeaux, David Fletcher (both freshmen from Oak Grove), Jeffrey Hansell (sophomore from St. Stanislaus), and John Brisco (sophomore from San Antonio, Fla.) were rock solid players," Breerwood said. "They never missed a beat. When called upon, they performed like pros and we never missed a beat. That's one of the biggest reasons we were victorious 17 out of the 20 times we took to the field."

Defensively, the Wildcats were the second-best squad in the MACJC and Region XXIII. Breerwood cited the likes of sophomores Bryce Breland of St. Stanislaus, and freshmen Brandon Baas and Cameron Lovitte, both of Oak Grove, for their defensive efforts.

Breerwood said he expects numerous players to ink senior college scholarships, noting that both his women's and men's teams garnered many post-season awards in the league. Those will be announced at the annual Fall Sports Banquet in the coming weeks. PRCC has made the post-season tournament three of the five years of the soccer program's existence. This year also marked its first-ever MACJC South Division crown.

Itawamba sweeps Pearl River in basketball action

FULTON-Pearl River Community College was swept by Itawamba in non-division MACJC women's and men's basketball action here Thursday.

The Lady Wildcats fell to 1-4 overall with their 84-67 loss to the Lady Indians, while ICC's men avenged their season-opening loss to the Wildcats with a 79-76 victory. ICC's women improved to 4-2, while its men improved to 2-3. Pearl River's men dropped to 3-2.

In women's action, ICC led 40-26 at the intermission, then took a narrow 44-41 advantage in the second half to ice the win. The Lady Indians defeated the Lady Wildcats 70-66 in Nov. 6's season opener in Poplarville. Samantha Flenory of North Forrest and Ashley Smith of Beaumont, Tex., paced PRCC with 11 points each, while Carmen Labat of Bay High and Monique Dale of South Jones added 10 each. Yolanda Hartfield of Hattiesburg High scored 9, and Cicely Tatum, Kira Tillman, and Nikki Smith, all of Poplarville High, 8, 6, and 2 points, respectively.

In men's action, Pearl River played without the services of All-State center Ray Selva of Baton Rouge, who was battling flu-like symptoms; but still came close to pulling out the victory.

The Wildcats trailed 49-40 at the half, but fought back to take a 1-point lead in the final 2 minutes. PRCC bopped ICC 69-60 in Nov. 6's season opener in Poplarville.

Daryl Cohen of Century, Fla., led PRCC with 22 points, while Carlos Cole of Hattiesburg High added 11, Malcolm Fonerette of Bassfield and Ethan Smith of Poplarville High, 9 each; Larry Brackins of Dothan, Ala., 8; Alvin Smith of Forrest County AHS, 6; Jason Simmons of Hattiesburg High, 5; Jonathan Williams of Stone County 4, and Gabe Willis of St. Stanislaus 1.

Artigues pleased with fall workouts

Following six weeks of workouts and several exhibition games this fall, Pearl River Community College head baseball coach Jay Artigues says Wildcat fans have something exciting to look forward to again next spring.

The Wildcats will be trying to improve on last year's 38-13 record, which included a second straight trip to the state and regional playoffs. That was Artigues, second season at PRCC.

His 2002 Wildcats had a 42-13 record, which included first-ever Region XXIII and Central District "Super Regional" championships, as well as a first-ever trip to the NJCAA Division II World Series.

"The main things we try to do in the fall is evaluate the kids, and for the kids to understand our system," said Artigues. "Right now, I would consider it a success, especially with the number of returning kids we have. We have the most balanced club we've ever had when you talk about team defense, team speed, overall offense and pitching depth."

Some of the players Artigues mentioned as having good falls include first baseman-pitcher Rhyn Hughes, centerfielder Matt Riser and pitcher-designated hitter Thomas Royals, a sophomore from Lumberton.

The 10-man Wildcat pitching staff features six lefthanders. Besides sophomore Zach Butler of Gulfport, who was 3-0 last season, and Royals, other pitchers the Wildcats will be counting on this fall include Tyler Stutes, a transfer from Bossier Parish (La.) Community College, and freshmen Craig Rodriguez of Sugar Land, Texas, Corey Bass of Petal, Brent Varnado of Amite, La., and Jared Landrum of Iberville.

Sophomore Neil Farve of Bay St. Louis will contribute as a designated hitter, as will sophomore Garret Drake of Petal, who is also competing for an outfield position.

Diamondhead SPCA reunites family with lost pet

THE SEA COAST ECHO

This is a story about the adventures of a cat named Scout. The first part is by Thelma Hopkins (me) of The Diamondhead Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The second and third part is by Kristin Henley.

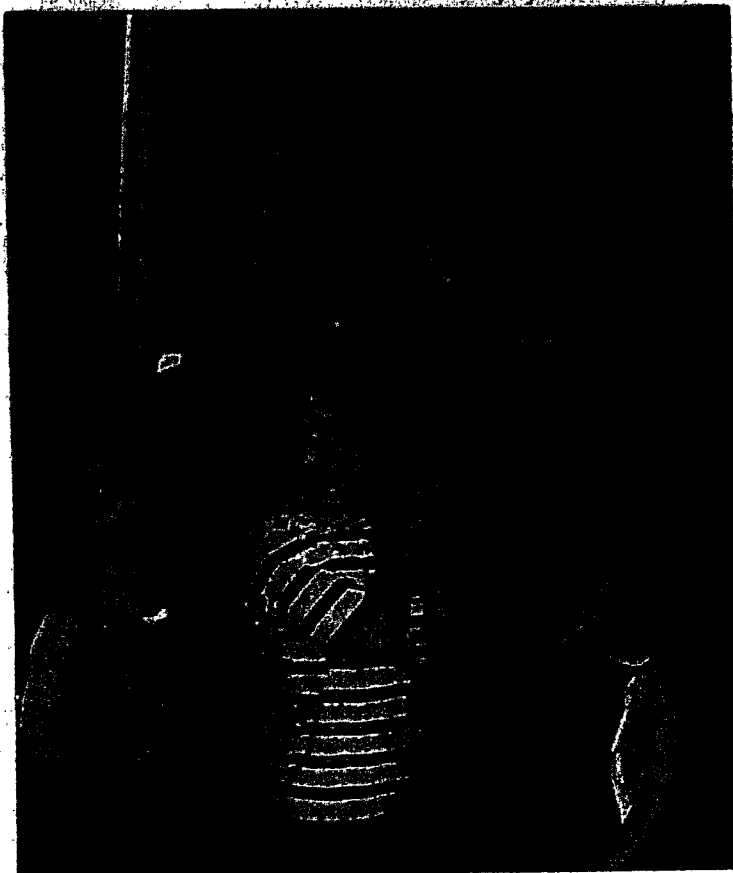

Thelma Hopkins

PART ONE

On Aug. 23, a family was traveling from California to their new home in Tallahassee, Florida in a motor home. The family consisted of Darryle and Kristin Henley and their three children, Alex, Brian and Sarah. In addition they had their cat, Scout, in the motor home. The motor home was rear ended by a truck just east of the rest area that is west of highway 603 on I10. The motor home was destroyed. In the excitement of the accident, Scout disappeared. About a week later the Diamondhead SPCA learned of the missing cat. They posted signs at the rest area and along Bayou LaCroix Road which is south of the rest area.

During the next few weeks there were reports of Scout sightings, but turned out to be false alarms. The Henleys made a trip from Tallahassee to the area looking for Scout in October. Alex was very disappointed since he and Scout had been very close all of Scout's life.

On October 31, Halloween at about 10 P.M. Veda Dussor and her friend, Cindy Stoltz, were working at the Dussor home at 7242 Bayou LaCroix Road, Bay St. Louis when a cat appeared. They thought it looked like Scout, the missing cat, and contacted Thelma Hopkins of the

The Henley family, reunited with Scout.

Diamondhead SPCA. They delivered the cat to Thelma Hopkins that night. After comparing the markings on the cat to the markings on a picture of Scout, Thelma and the Henleys were convinced that it was the missing Scout.

Since Colonel Hopkins cannot pilot a plane at the present time because of temporary medical reasons, the Hopkins made arrangements with Carl McIntyre, a Waveland businessman, to fly Scout to Tallahassee. Carl and his wife, Anna, and Thelma and Richard Hopkins made the flight on November 8, 2003 and delivered Scout to his family.

PART TWO

We have a human interest story that may be of interest to you because it happened in your state and was just aired at 11:00 p.m. last night (Nov. 3) in Tallahassee, Florida.

My husband and I, our 3 children, and our beloved cat "Scout" sold our home in California, packed up and started the week+ long drive to Florida to start a new life. We gave up our job and left our family and friends behind for our dream of making a better life for ourselves.

Over 2000 miles later on Aug. 23, in Bay St. Louis Mississippi we were struck from behind by a huge Mack Truck that drove the Honda Passport we were towing up into our camper where we all were. All of our vehicles plus car trailer was totaled. My oldest son, Alex was buried in the rubble unconscious, my daughter, Sarah suffered a broken arm, and her twin brother, Brian, my husband and myself suffered only cuts and bruises. It was a miracle in itself that we were all alive. However, Scout, the cat was never found at the scene. After 2 days in Memorial hospital and a weeklong stay in a Gulfport hotel, we managed to find a rental car to transport the remains of our belongings and all 5 of us the rest of the way to Florida. We spent much of our stay in Mississippi searching for our beloved cat who was my son's (Alex's) best friend. Alex was a Boy Scout in California and Scout had gone on Boy Scout camping trip with him. They were inseparable.

We have been in Florida for 2 1/2 months trying to put our lives back together through counseling. This accident was extremely traumatic. All of our vehicles and many of our personal belongings were destroyed in the accident. My son Alex has suffered major depression over the loss of his best pal, Scout. The Diamondhead SPCA in Mississippi meanwhile had placed posters of Scout everywhere near the accident site and multiple food dishes, even in the forest by a rest area!

On Nov. 1, I got a call from the Diamondhead SPCA telling me they think they found Scout. On Halloween night at 10:00 p.m., a woman in a neighborhood over 1/2 mile from the scene of the accident spotted a cat that looked like the poster and called the SPCA. He was retrieved and pictures were sent out to us to identify him. It was Scout!!! 400 miles from where we now live in Florida, the Diamondhead SPCA has arranged to fly him home to us on a PRIVATE PLANE! An attempt was made to fly him out on Tuesday but because of thunderstorms Thelma and Richard Hopkins (of Diamondhead SPCA) could not make the trip.

There is going to be another attempt made this coming Saturday (Nov. 8th) to deliver him to us. ABC in Tallahassee has picked up this story and aired a small piece on it last night. They have also asked to be informed of the flight time when we find out so they can try to capture the moment and the reunion. We are overwhelmed with excitement as we anxiously await the return of Scout, our beloved cat.

I am sending this story to you because it is a story of true triumph over tragedy and it is all of the wonderful people in Mississippi who helped this miracle to happen. The efforts of the Diamondhead SPCA and all the people in the community who paid attention to those signs and called in with possible "Scout" sightings throughout the past 2 1/2 months. We want it to be known that Mississippi has an abundance of wonderful, caring people and have helped a California family to pick up the pieces. As we have suffered emotionally and financially through the past couple of months due to the actions of this careless truck driver, I know Scout's return will help the healing process enormously.

Thank you Mississippi and special Thanks to Diamondhead SPCA!

Sincerely,
The Henley family

PART THREE

Dear Thelma and Richard,

At first I was a little indifferent at the airport because I honestly didn't recognize him right off. He grew a lot in the past 2 1/2 months!!!

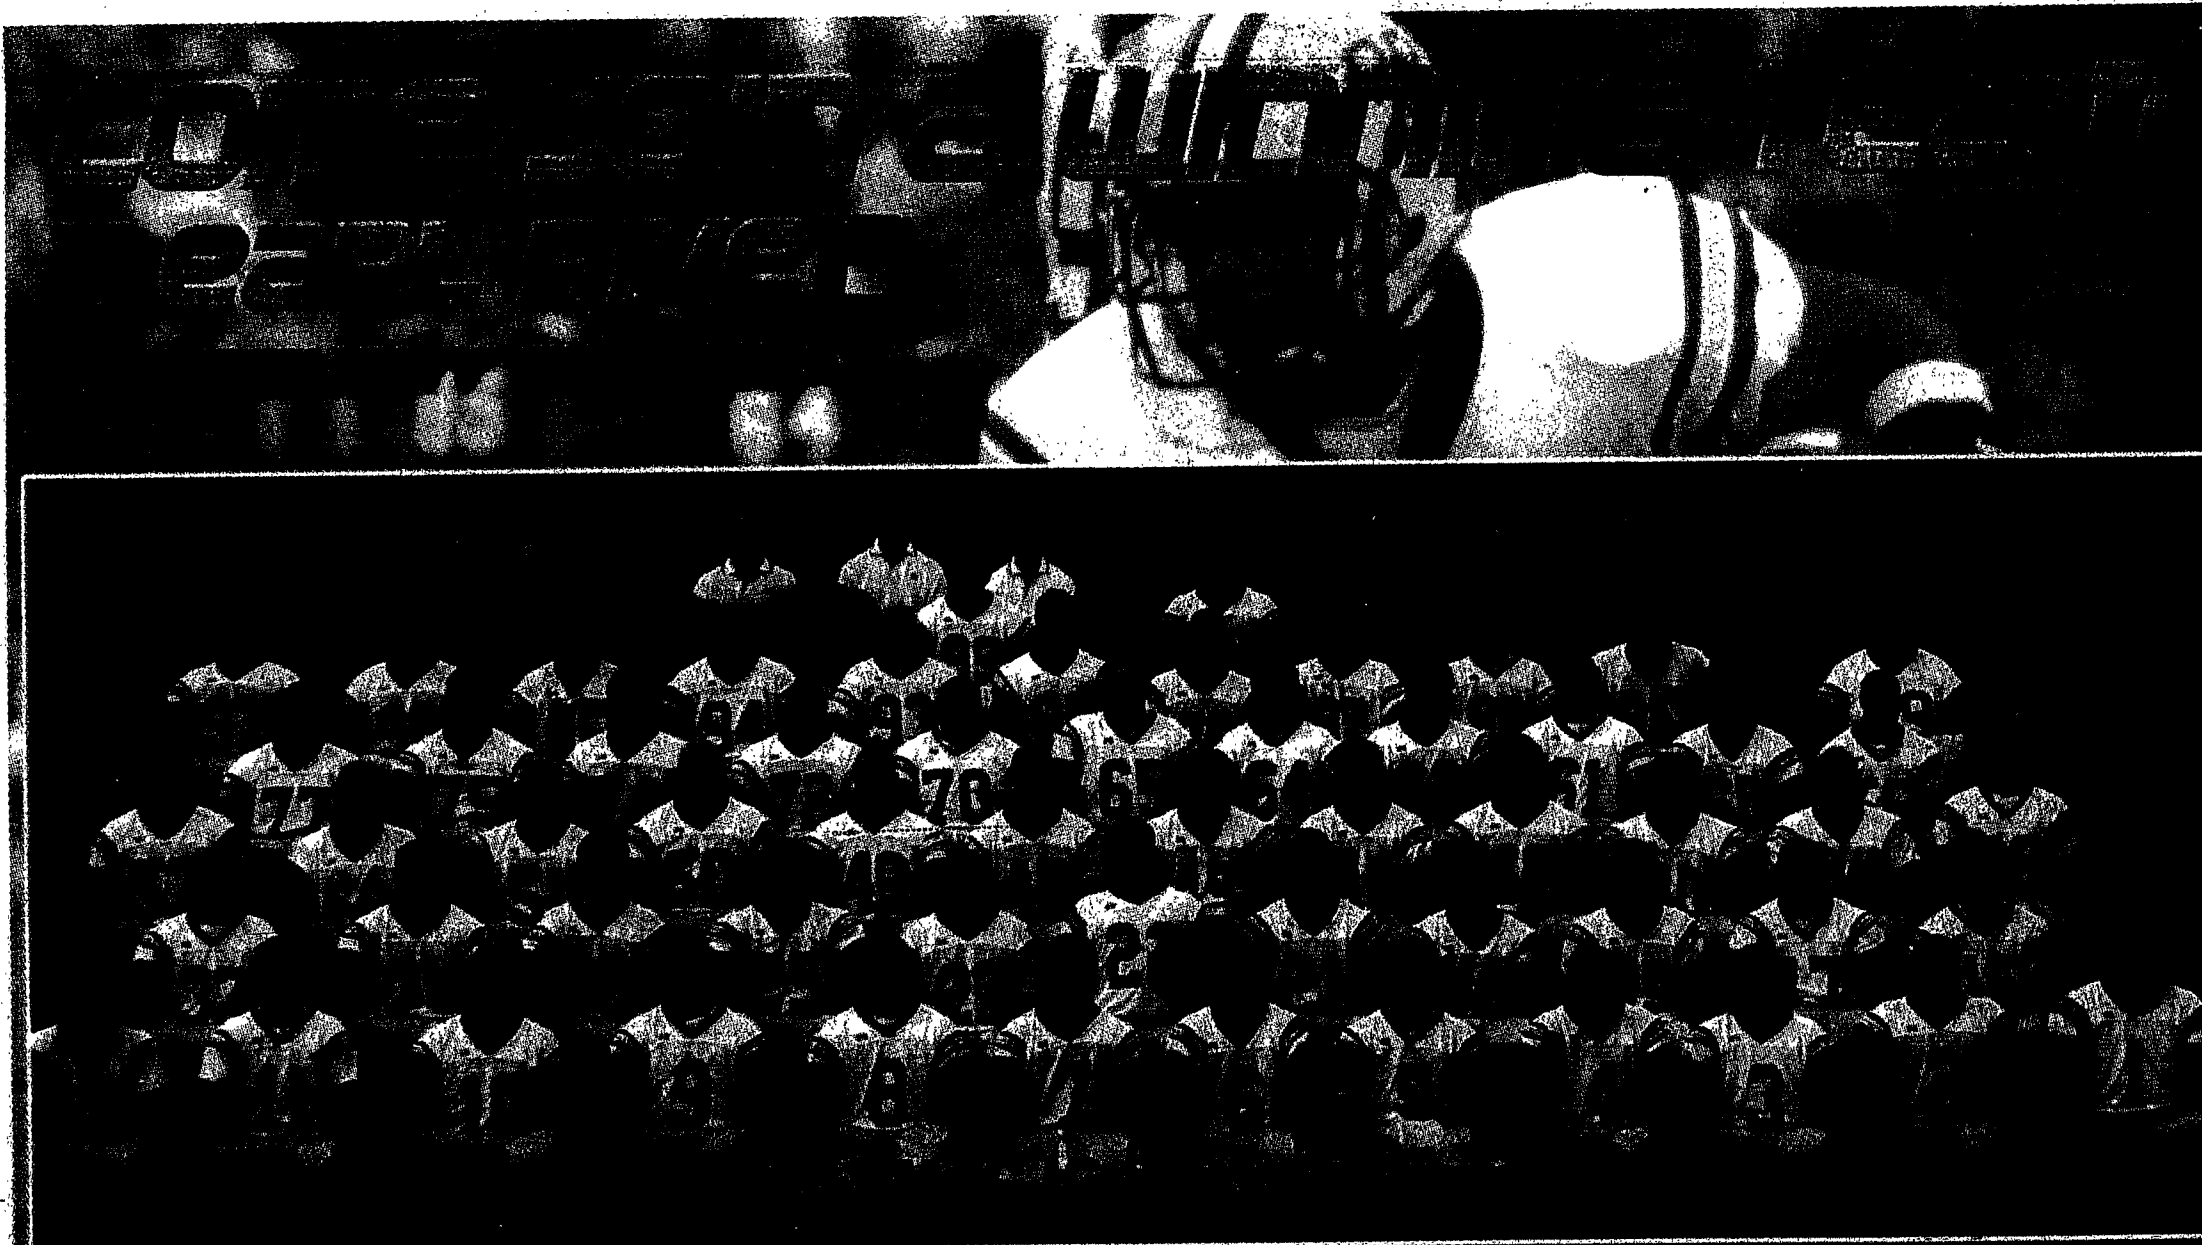

On the way home he was holding Alex's hand with his paw through the cat carrier and didn't even meow. I then knew this was definitely Scout. He always stuck one paw out of the cat carrier whenever he was in it to grab whoever was there.

When we got home we were 500% sure. He already recognizes things. He went right for his old food dish that I have kept in case he ever returned and started eating very vigorously while making biscuits with his front paws. He was always a messy eater and immediately he had food all around his dish. He went to sniff his old cat box, which I also kept stored for him. He is licking the hair on our arms, something he always did. He comes quickly to his name when we just say it once!

He is a dream come true! Scout is really home and I am still in complete awe over it!!!! He is doing everything he always did before immediately upon being here with us. I am so excited, we are all so excited. Alex is in heaven. Scout is in heaven as well. He just jumped up on my lap to type the rest of this message. He has his face against my cheek as I type.

You have made our world around us so much better and I will never be able to thank you enough. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts!

Love,
Kristin, Darryle, Alex,
Sarah, Brian

Give your thanks to George
for the big day*(1789 Newspaper Reveals Washington is Father of Thanksgiving)*

Americans don't know it and children aren't taught it, but George Washington is responsible for our Thanksgiving holiday. It was our first president who led the charge to make this day of thanks a truly national event - not the Pilgrims and not Abraham Lincoln.

On October 3, 1789, George Washington issued his Thanksgiving Proclamation, designating for "the People of the United States a day of public thanks-giving" to be held on "Thursday the 26th day of November," 1789, marking the first national celebration of a holiday that has become commonplace in today's households. While subsequent presidents failed to maintain this tradition, it was Washington's original Proclamation that guided Abraham Lincoln's 1863 Thanksgiving Proclamation. In fact, Lincoln issued his proclamation on the same day, October 3, and marked the same Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 26, as Washington, setting Thanksgiving as the last Thursday of November after our first president's example. The proclamation was printed in newspapers, including the October 9, 1789 issue of the Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser.

George Washington first mentioned the possibility of a national Thanksgiving Day in a confidential letter to James Madison in August 1789 (just months after taking office), asking for his advice on approaching the Senate for their opinion on "a day of thanks-giving." By the end of September 1789, a resolution had been introduced to the House of Representatives requesting that "a joint committee of both Houses be directed to wait upon the President of the United States, to request that he would recommend to the people of the United States a day of public thanksgiving." The committee put the resolution before the president and George Washington issued the first national Thanksgiving Proclamation within days.

Washington knew the value of a thanksgiving day long before becoming our first president. During the Revolutionary War, he would order special thanksgiving services for his troops after successful battles, as well as publicly endorse efforts by the Continental Congress to proclaim days of thanks, usually in recognition of military victories and alliances. The concept of thanksgiving was not new to the citizens of the new United States. Colonists even before the Pilgrims often established Thank Days to mark certain occasions. These one-time

Watching the 'Walkers in the Shallows'

Nathaniel, our neighbor from up the street, is out in front of our house wade fishing. It's early evening, Stella's off painting with her buddies and I'm on the porch, relaxing. Toward the horizon, far out, there are a couple of shrimp boats. Their superstructures are brightly lit for brief moments by the evening light as they move in and out of a small rain shower.

It's a good time of day, sitting on the porch, cooling down from the heat of the day, enjoying the changes in the late light and watching a neighbor fish. Jenny, our gray hound, is flat on her side beside my chair, sound asleep. Holly, our black tom, is about twenty feet away, lying on one of the pillars of the brick fence in the side yard. I can see him from where I sit, equally asleep, a paw hanging down.

If Norman Rockwell had lived on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, this is what he'd paint. I say Nathaniel's wade fishing but I've been noticing that recently he and many of the other fishermen are using a different technique than the wade fishing that was common here a few years ago. Then they stayed close to the piers and culverts. Now, they range in their wading anywhere out on the broad flats, sometimes in water that's less than knee deep, sometimes over their waist. This seems to be successful, they are catching them; flounders, specs, redfish....

Stella usually goes fishing in the morning with a friend from up the street getting her bait (live shrimp) from Bodage's and staying out till late morning. If she still has bait left, she may go out again in the evening. Nathaniel gets his bait a couple hundred yards west of the house, netting fingerlings exiting Lister's pond through a culvert. He uses a fine cast net and in a few minutes he has enough and often begins fishing almost immediately from the end of the culvert.

Lately it seems as if we are living in a neighborhood of wade fishermen. It appears at times as if an army is moving on the shallows engaged in some conflict with an invisible foe under the water. Friends of Nathaniel that live nearby often join him and also

Easy steps to prevent and manage diabetes

November is American Diabetes Month. According to the American Diabetes Association, diabetes is the fifth deadliest disease in the United States. A third of the 17 million Americans with diabetes are unaware that they have the disease. Approximately 90-95 percent of people living with diabetes have type 2, or adult onset diabetes, a devastating illness with potentially life-threatening complications.

"The long term effects of diabetes can include damage to the eyes, nerves, kidneys and cardiovascular system," says Fouad R. Kandeel, M.D., Ph.D., director of the City of Hope Leslie & Susan Gonda (Goldschmied) Diabetes & Genetic Research Center in Los Angeles. "Knowing risk factors and detecting type 2 diabetes early can increase the chances of successfully preventing or managing the disease."

Those at highest risk for diabetes include:

* People over the age of 45

* Those with a family history of diabetes
* People who are overweight or do not exercise regularly

* Women who develop gestational diabetes during pregnancy

* People of African American, Latino, Native American or Asian descent

* Children who are overweight and in middle to late puberty

Complications of diabetes can include heart disease, stroke, vision loss or blindness, kidney disease, skin disorders, foot problems and amputation. Fortunately there are several ways to prevent and manage diabetes. Dr. Kandeel suggests the following:

* Eat a well-balanced diet
* Exercise regularly and shed the extra pounds

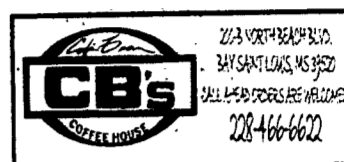

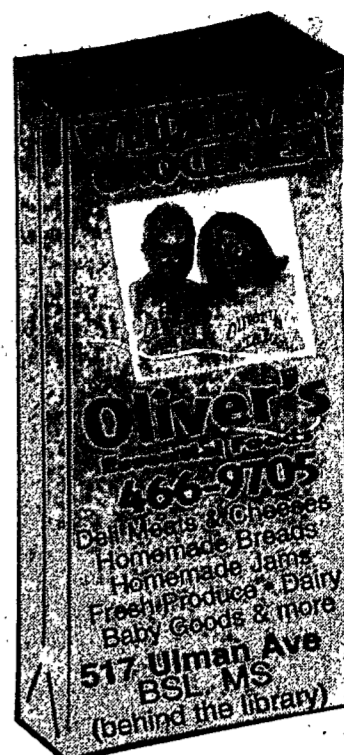

* Manage physical and mental stress factors

* Practice good personal hygiene, including oral health, skin care, foot care and eye care

"Common signs of diabetes include frequent urination and infections, unusual thirst or weight loss, excessive hunger, fatigue, blurred vision, slow-healing cuts and bruises and tingling or numbness in the hands and feet," says Dr. Kandeel. "People exhibiting these symptoms or who think they are at risk of developing diabetes should consult their physician."

For more information about diabetes research and treatment at the City of Hope Leslie & Susan Gonda (Goldschmied) Diabetes & Genetic Research Center, call 1-800-826-HOPE, or visit www.cityofhope.org/diabetes.

Melinda Dittmann will go on to participate in the American All-Star half-time show at the Super Bowl.

Point Island Garden Club decorating for Christmas

The Point Island Garden Club met on November 4, 2003 at 2:00 p.m. in the Sewer Board Building.

The chairperson of the Pilgrimage Tour reported that the homes that have been on tour since the club was formed will be presented a plaque. The club voted to pay for the plaques. Also reported was information about the High Tea and Fashion show in Ocean Springs on March 30. Members were encouraged to attend.

The chairperson of the Park Committee announced that another Butterfly Garden will be started when weather permits. Donations of shrubs and flowers will be accepted.

The members voted to discontinue the Yard of the Month for October and November due to the hot, dry weather.

The program was presented by Scott Nagal from the Pass Christian Books. He presented a book review on "Two Gardeners - A Friendship in Letters" by Emily Herring Wilson.

On November 21, several members took the Walking Tour in Ocean Springs. The club will participate in the Christmas Tree Contest at the Hancock Count Library in Bay St. Louis.

The signs notifying residents of the Christmas Decorating Contest will be put up in the neighborhoods on November 28.

The judging will be on December 19.

There will not be a meeting in December due to the many activities planned.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Susan Schertzer and Ethel Cheron. The next meeting will be on January 6, 2004 at 2:00 p.m. in the Sewer Board Building.

Mississippi Division of Medicaid urges high-risk patients to get flu shots now

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi Division of Medicaid is urging Mississippi Medicaid Beneficiaries to heed the advice from The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and their personal physician, that those individuals over 50 years of age and these at high risk for complications from flu and pneumonia should get the flu shot now. More than 100,000 people are hospitalized each year from complications caused by the flu. Most of those deaths involve the elderly and individuals who are chronically ill.

"That is why the Mississippi Division of Medicaid encourages its beneficiaries to get the flu shot every year and make sure they are up to date on pneumonia vaccines," said Rica Lewis-Payton, Executive Director, MS Division of Medicaid.

Although none is projected this year, past shortages of the flu vaccine has motivated the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP), and the Flu Vaccine Manufacturers to suggest that persons over 50 and the chronically ill get their shots during October or November, and as advised by their personal physician. "The Mississippi Division of Medicaid supports that effort," Payton said, "We want Medicaid beneficiaries who are over 50 years old or at high risk for complications from flu and pneumonia to get their flu shot as soon as possible. They should also check to see if they are up to date on their pneumonia vaccine."

"We understand the County Health Departments currently have the vaccine available and we know most clinics in Mississippi are actively immunizing their patients. All individuals over 50 should be given the flu and pneumonia vaccination, especially those who have the highest risk of severe complications if they get the flu. The high risk population includes those with ongoing health problem such as heart, kidney, and lung disease, cancer or diabetes, women at least 3 months pregnant, health care workers that come in contact with the chronically ill, and those individuals in congregated living arrangements," said Dr. Robert P. N. Shearin, M.D., M.S. Medical Director for Health Systems of Mississippi.

Mississippi is a non-profit corporation contracted with Mississippi Medicaid to carry out utilization review, quality improvement, and education services. These organizations have joined forces to promote flu and pneumonia immunization in preparation for the upcoming Flu Season.

his wife goes with him, bringing their young children to play on the beach while she moves about casting her rod within 50 or so feet from him. She catches fish as well.

Several younger teenagers habitually come down to wade fish also. Although there is a bit of horseplay, they appear to be quite successful. I've heard one of these boasts unabashedly to the others that he is "The Kingfisherman." He may well be right as I have seen him again and again bring back large fish and multiple catches when no one else had any luck.

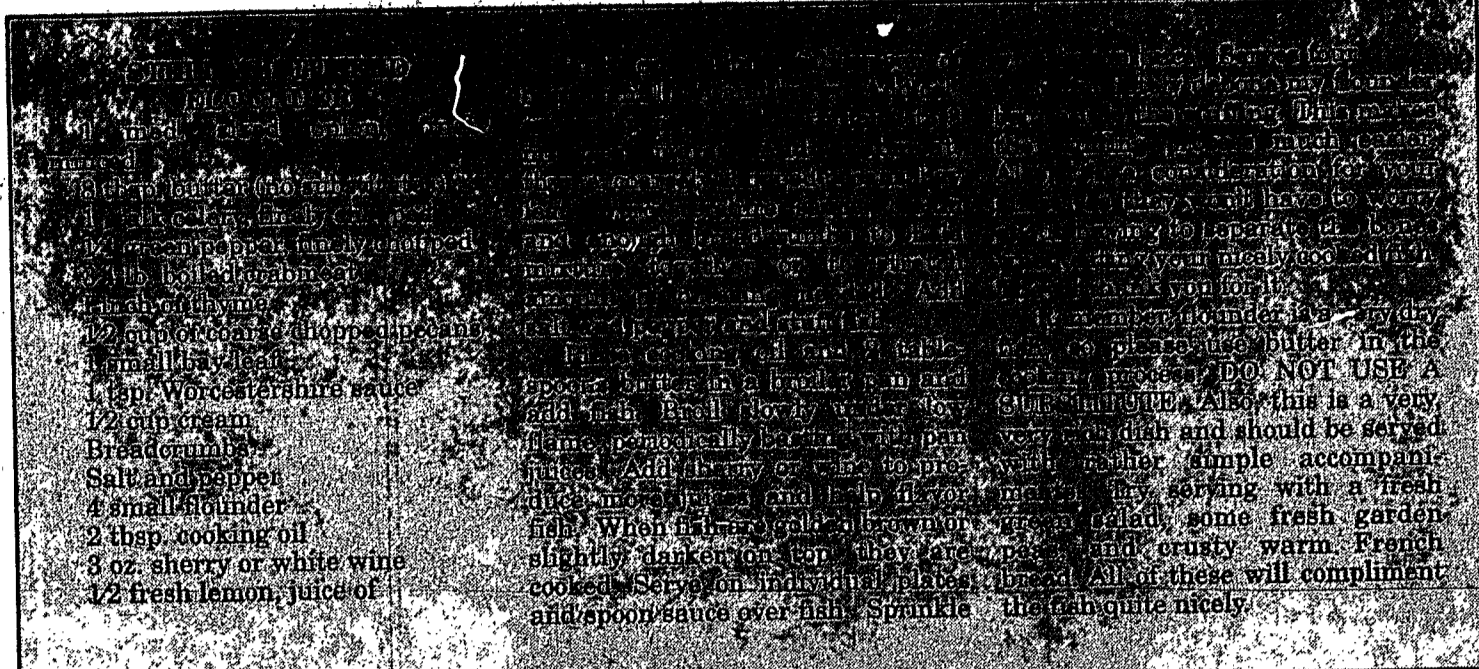

There are others, many others. Some are wade fishers, some fish differently; all fish the shallows. There are always a few wade fishermen about Carrere's Pier, die-hards for the old way of fishing by the pier. But, now and then we have three mullet men park their pickups in front and wade out in the water casting their nets for mullet. One mullet man sometimes brings his wife and the two of them work the scattered schools of mullet, the fish schools' presence shown by the disturbed darker water. The two move about steadily, casting their nets out, pulling in the cast methodically, readying it for the next throw, pocketing with each cast, a few mullet.

Tonight in the dark these daytime waders will be replaced in the shallows by other fishers. These are a delight to see; small groups of two or three people, night floundering with lanterns. A beautiful magical sight as the light moves as if it has a life of its own in the dark in the shallows; a sure sign by their presence that summer is here. Often these are families with gigs and nets catching in a few hours in the shallows, memories to last a lifetime.

Stella has asked me to go fishing with her, but I've always begged off saying it would be too boring. Actually it wouldn't be boring so much as frustrating. I am by training a marine scientist and I'm afraid I would approach fishing as I do a working project. This wouldn't work, things would rapidly get out of hand and I'm sure that is not what fishing is about.

For example, let's see what's involved in my trained logic of finding out when the fish will be biting. Brace yourself, what I am about to say is boring.

One of the big driving factors in the feeding cycle of fish is the tidal current. Not the tide height, the tidal current (although they are directly related). Flooding and ebbing tidal currents are fastest about halfway between high and low tide. At these times these currents stir up the bottom and the moving water is filled with food for the fish to eat. During the ebb, for example, they bring food out of an estuary like the Bay of St. Louis or Bayou Caddy and move it in a long stream of material past Carrere's pier. There is a color line that's often visible when this happens (the outflowing material) and that's a good indicator of where to fish.

The fish know these times; that is when they are programmed to feed. The current is like a dinner bell, and they suddenly get hungry and start to look for food. Birds know this and look for the discolored outflow to start eating. Fishermen like Stella and Nathaniel also know this and they, as part of getting ready to fish, check the local tide conditions and keep watch for the flow of discolored water.

But there are subtleties to this. The strength of the tidal currents changes daily on an almost monthly cycle. There are days in that cycle when the tidal current is so weak that it's not worth fishing. Conversely, there are days in the cycle when the current is so strong, and therefore heavily laden with fish munchies, that you almost have to go fishing.

It's best to use tide tables to get this information, as they are not, as you would think, directly related to the moon phase but to complex harmonics generated by the shape of the regional basin.

Then there are the winds. A north wind blowing on the Bay may reinforce the water leaving the Bay at ebb and more material may come out.

Or maybe the rains have been heavy and a lot of material pours out. But perhaps the salinity drop due to this fresh water turns away some of the fish. Or, conversely, maybe a deep-water eddy off the Gulf Coast is pushing high quantities of high-salinity water into the Sound that disrupts the fishing.

Does all of this start to sound confusing? Well, it is. My problem is that with my temperament and training I would worry and start calculating all of this to the finest detail. I would go crazy, finally deciding that the only time to fish would be between two and three a.m. on the third Thursday of next month. Mind you, I haven't even started to consider what lures or live bait to use or the rod or reel and what strength of line.

Stella doesn't worry about all this.

If the tide tables say that the tide is right and the day looks nice, she's out there fishing. If the tables say things are not so good, but the weather is nice, she's out there fishing. What's lovely about this is that if she doesn't catch a thing, she has lots of things to blame it on. And if she does catch something, it's because she's a good fisherman!

I can't beat that kind of logic, so I don't fish.

I've been watching Nathaniel from my sitting position for a while now and he doesn't appear to be catching anything. Last night, he came back complaining about the catfish. These trash fish, with their wicked barbs are a bane to all kinds of fishermen and part of the equipment on Nathaniel's tethered float are pliers to safely unhook them. Tonight, though, it seems that not even these pests are biting.

The light deepens, more red on the water, I watch Nathaniel moves slowly about, casting his line, slowly reeling it in, then casting again. Way over to his left, two mullet jump. There is no wind, its quiet.

I realize as I watch all this that with persons like Nathaniel, it's not the catching of the fish, but rather the act of fishing that carries the deeper joy.

events could occur at any time of the year and were usually more solemn than the Thanksgiving we observe today, emphasizing prayer and spiritual reflection.

Thanksgiving was not made a legal holiday until 1941 when Congress named the fourth Thursday in November as our national day of thanks in answer to public outcry over President Roosevelt's attempt to prolong the Christmas shopping season by moving Thanksgiving from the traditional last Thursday to the third Thursday of November.

"AND THE LORD HARDENED PHARAOH'S HEART!"
IT HAS BEEN SAID MANY TIMES, "THE LORD WORKS IN MYSTERIOUS WAYS. HE WONDERS TO

TO THE DEPARTURE OF THE HEBREWS FROM EGYPT UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF MOSES. AL-THOUGH MOSES, AT THE LORD'S INSTIGATION, PERFORMED MIRACLES BEFORE PHARAOH'S EYES, THE BIBLE TELLS US, OVER AND OVER AGAIN, "...AND THE LORD HARDENED PHARAOH'S HEART..." (EX. 9:12) SO THAT PHARAOH WOULD NOT BELIEVE WHAT HIS EYES BEHELD! UNTIL THE VERY DAY OF THE EXODUS WHEN THE HEBREWS WERE WELL ON THEIR WAY TO THE RED SEA...OBVIOUSLY THE LORD INTENDED THE DESTRUCTION OF PHARAOH AND HIS ARMIES FOR THE HARSH TREATMENT THEY HAD GIVEN THE HEBREWS. MORE THAN A DOZEN VERSES IN THE SCRIPTURES RELATE THIS TYRANNICAL BEHAVIOR IN THE FACE OF SO MANY PROOFS THAT MOSES WAS ACTUALLY A MESSENGER FROM GOD HIMSELF. WHY ELSE WOULD AN INTEL-LIGENT RULER OVERLOOK THESE FACTS...

Signs of the times

As the Church liturgical year draws to a close, the usual readings about the last things are presented for our meditation: the end of the world, death, judgment, heaven, hell. Of course, the most astounding and fascinating of these events is the anticipated fiery, explosive end time of the world.

Reflections

on Life

by Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

God promised in Genesis 9:13,15: "I set my bow in the clouds to serve as a sign of the covenant between me and the earth—so that the waters shall never again become a flood to destroy all mortal human beings."

Rather, fire: "In those days after that tribulation the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will be falling from the sky, and the powers in the heavens will be shaken." (Mark 13:24,25.)

"But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a mighty roar and the elements will be dissolved by fire, and the earth and everything done on it will be found out." (2 Peter 3:10.)

It is supremely curious that many top scientists believe that the end of the world will be brought about by our own hands; to wit, the ultra-destructive power of hydrogen weapons and perhaps the nuclear winter we can create by the slovenly use or criminal abuse of nuclear reactors and weapons.

However, we and our silly, extremely dangerous nuclear games may be trumped by the biggest nuclear engine of them all: our own sun. Measuring in at about 865,000 miles in diameter, or about 109 times that of the earth, the sun is one truly outsize thermonuclear reactor.

Imagine surface heat at about 10,000 degrees and heat at the core at about 27,000,000 degrees. Surely, too much to imagine. Though remote, we hope, there is a chance that this incredibly large thermonuclear engine may decide to explode as a hydrogen bomb does. Naturally, the latter does not compare.

Such a mind-bending hydrogen "bomb" would remove us from this earth painlessly, vaporizing us before we knew what hit us. Since light takes eight minutes to traverse the 93 million miles from the sun to us, an exploding sun would take that long to make its fiery, searing mischief felt. Then, lights out.

Thus, the end of the world may be as natural as our sun's being pushed suddenly to explode and vaporize us before we are aware of it, or as artificial as the insanity of our secular-minded, power-hungry generation moving blindly into insane uses of nuclear or biochemical agents.

Speculation on the earth's ultimate demise has been rampant as long as we humans have been around, the main differences being only more ignorance, more superstitions and greater fears in centuries and millennia past. In fact, perhaps the biggest threat now is a numbing of or a lack of healthy fear.

Since Psalm 111:10 warns, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom," it is sadly evident that, whatever wisdom there is in this secular world, it is generally not the wisdom accruing from the fear of God.

Jesus warns us to be aware of the signs of the times.

Are there any things, persons or events around you which you perceive as the signs of the times pointing toward the end time of the world?

What about completely atypical, prolonged desert heat in Europe last summer which funeral directors reported killed 15,000 Frenchmen among many other Europeans? Ironically, a typical European summer is cool. Need we even mention the deadly, destructive, greater-than-ever wildfires which have devastated parts of our country and the world, swiftly followed by torrential rain, flooding and mudslides?

How about our sun's blasting out unbelievably huge solar flares which douse us with enough radiation to disturb many of our electrical systems, instruments and tools at all civil and military levels?

Those flares are but teasers compared to what could eventually happen. On the other hand, it is a veritable crapshoot as to when some enormous, errant, meteor will strike our earth again, like the monster killer which impacted Africa aeons ago, creating a gargantuan crater 26 miles wide.

Far worse, there are numerous asteroids, some a mile or more in diameter, careening dangerously through the frigid, inhospitable darkness of space surrounding Planet Earth, comprising an off-and-on threat to liquidate us.

So, in addition to above-mentioned signs, what are the signs of the times which you perceive in your personal life? Is it as for many, the inevitable cancer which follows years of heavy smoking or eating animal cholesterol?

Or do you, as many, respond only to the specter of death itself which lays waste to your weakened body ravaged by disease and severe abuse? Thus, the end of time becomes, not a remote event, but a very intimate one.

In any case, the generic end of time means nothing to any of us until our own personal confrontation with the jaws of death. This special appointment with God, called the particular judgment, is the one we need to focus on.

All those travails, even the jaws of death, notwithstanding, Jesus is the Jaws of Life who will snatch us from the jaws of death and carry us safely home to the eternal peace, joy and celebration in his Father's kingdom.

The "Word" for the Week

The Christian and the devil

Dennis J. Priddy • Box 303, Sterling, KS 66757-0303

The occult is belief in mystic arts such as magic and astrology. The occult is all around us. Efforts are made to display the occult as innocent and friendly.

Our children are encouraged to follow the lives of mystical characters that perform magic and cast spells. Astrology is a big business. Our daily newspapers always carry the horoscopes.

Now perhaps following your horoscope and children pretending they are wizards seem innocent enough. But they are only a step away from deeper involvement in the occult. More than one person has attempted to communicate with the dead. Bereaved parents and lonely widows are particularly vulnerable to such practices.

But the Bible warns against these things. "There shall not be found among you anyone who makes his son or his daughter pass through the fire, one who used divination, one who practices witchcraft, or one who interprets omens, or a sorcerer, or one who casts a spell, or a medium or a spiritist, or one who calls up the dead" (Deuteronomy 18:10-11).

Why was God so emphatic? There is only one reason. The practices of the occult are a deception of God's enemy, the devil.

The apostle Paul was very forthright with a magician who opposed him, "You who are full of all deceit and fraud, you son of the devil" (Acts 13:10).

Don't follow the devil. It may seem like a game right now. But the followers of the devil will be excluded from God's heaven. That's just what the devil wants. He wants you. Turn to God through Jesus Christ. Christ came into the world "that He might destroy the works of the devil" (1 John 3:8).

Scripture Says . . .

By Ed Young

There are teachings in the Christian Church that man can earn his way to God. The Bible doesn't teach that.

This teaching that man can work his way to Heaven nullifies the Doctrine of GRACE. We are saved through the GIFT OF GRACE. "For by grace are you saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God, not of works, lest any man should boast." (Eph. 2: 8 & 9)

The thing that is so hard to accept is that it is not our righteousness, but Jesus' righteousness. He is the one that justifies us before the Almighty God. That's what Calvary's Cross was all about.

However, after one becomes "Born again" he receives the Spirit of God. He then has a strong desire to tell others about the things that are pertaining to God's Kingdom.

The believer starts his walk in this life, knowing Jesus and wanting to do good works for the Lord.

The Church is made up of believers who teach, preach, sing, give time and money, go to distant lands, interceded for others; all for the glory of God.

The believers are servants, telling the world how to know God; how to know His Son; how to have eternal life.

Some religious leaders who are not "born again" have little spiritual influence upon their flock or anyone else that they may meet!

The god who loves you will give you the Grace to be saved, just ask Him. Then the Born again experience takes place. The Angels will rejoice and hell will shudder.

Scholarship reception

The University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast's Office of Development hosted its annual Scholarship Donor-Recipient reception Oct. 23.

The event was a chance for scholarship donors to meet each of the recipients.

"This reception provided a unique opportunity for Southern Miss to say thank you to its many generous donors and for the scholarship recipients to say thank you as well," said David Estorage, development officer for Southern Miss Gulf Coast Office of Development.

Other speakers were Estorage, William Peden, donor of the Dr. Rick Peden Memorial Endowment, Amanda Bittle, recipient of that endowment, and John Ferucci, of the Gulf Coast Gaming Association, who presented a $10,000 check in payment to an existing endowment.

There were 41 recipients honored. Five students received scholarships in the culinary field.

Darlene Kimball of Pass Christian received the Culinary Arts Academy Scholarship; and Patricia Harris of Pass Christian and Kristina Higuera received a scholarship from the Gulf Coast Chapter of the Mississippi Restaurant Association.

Nicole McDonald of Pass Christian received the Mississippi Freshman Scholarship from Whitney National Bank. Curtis Farmer of Perkinston was given a scholarship from the Gulfport Scottish Rite Scholarship Fund.

Sharon Starita of Pass Christian was the recipient of the Roger Poulos Memorial Academic Fund. Thien Phan of Pass Christian received the O'Keefe Companies Endowment Scholarship.

Los Tres Amigos

There it is six o'clock in the evening and you are wondering, "What am I going to do for dinner?" You decide to go to your favorite local Mexican restaurant. After being sat and ordering you start to chat with your friends or family and you don't give a second thought to what is going on in the background and miraculously within minutes your food has arrived. Well, we're here to tell you the main thing that is going on in those few minutes is a great deal of care and a well orchestrated working environment.

We take extreme care in the preparation, presentation and taste of our food. With that in mind, I can tell you that everything is made fresh every morning and periodically during the day. We don't open cans and put it on a plate. We cut all of our fresh produce and blend them together for the salsa, guacamole, pico de gallo, and fajitas. We even cut our chicken breasts and steaks every morning also. After putting our steaks and chicken breasts to marinade, we move to making rice, beans, cheese dip, tamales, and chips.

Along with making everything fresh daily we use only top quality products. We use only chicken breast meat for our fajitas as well as our tacos, quesadilla, and enchiladas. We use flank steak, rib-eyes, and lean pork loin.

But enough about how the food tastes so great let me tell you how much we appreciate our very loyal customers! We are running specials constantly. We serve lunch specials starting at $3.75 Monday through Saturday, we give a 10% discount on Sundays, 12 oz margaritas on the rocks are 99 cents on Thursday nights, and we have a happy hour special Monday through Saturday between 4 and 7 where you can get 1/2 price domestic beer or 1/2 price margaritas on the rocks... any size!!!

So, come and have a seat, sip on your drink, and be assured that you are going to have a great dinner at a great price!!

28th annual Victorian Candlelit Christmas

On December 13-14, the Victorian Candlelit Christmas will transport visitors back to the turn of the century with garland, greenery, twinkling luminaries, caroling, and family holiday traditions.

THE SEA COAST ECHO

What began in Hattiesburg in 1976 as a one-night display of Christmas decorations has grown into a two-day event showcasing over 15,000 luminaries in the downtown area, which is designated on the National Register of Historic Places. On December 13-14, 2003, the Victorian Candlelit Christmas will transport visitors back to the turn of the century with garland, greenery, twinkling luminaries, caroling, and family holiday traditions.

Luminaries surround and illuminate the grandeur of approximately 400 Victorian-style homes, all built between 1884 and 1930. This historic neighborhood is treasured; it was once home to Hattiesburg's first mayors and lumber barons who helped finance the city's beginnings. Guests may choose to walk through the neighborhood under the stately, 90-year old oak trees lining the streets, or perhaps ride a holiday decorated trolley. But to get the true feel of a turn-of-the-century Christmas, the Historic Neighborhood Association provides tours of the twenty-three block area in romantic, horse-drawn carriages.

In addition to the Candlelit Christmas display, there are open houses hosted by residents of the neighborhood. These Victorian homes are decorated beginning weeks ahead with every imaginable Christmas decoration, from antique Santa Claus to homemade tree ornaments. During this special event, homes glow from the inside and out with families celebrating the Christmas spirit.

"The focus is still to bring people into our neighborhood and see what these homes are like and see what's special about our neighborhood," said Monica Salda, president of the Hattiesburg Historic Neighborhood Association.

The center of activity is a Mississippi Landmark itself. The Walthall Center, built in 1904, now houses the Interaction Factory, a hands-on children's art and science museum, and it is home to the Pinehills Culture Center, a University of Southern Mississippi agency that documents and exhibits the culture and heritage of the Piney Woods. At the Walthall Center, families can find entertainment and a one-of-a-kind Christmas craft bazaar by local artists. Members of the Neighborhood Association volunteer to warm hands and hearts with soup, chili, cider, cookies, hot chocolate, and other homemade holiday treats. This special two-day event brings in over 2,000 visitors, and is in conjunction with Hattiesburg's Historic Downtown Holiday, which this year will include the fifth annual Holiday Family Film Festival, the downtown Art Walk, Carillon bell choirs, and four downtown church caroling choirs. Trees of Christmas, will also present more than 50 different themed, lighted Christmas trees, homemade refreshments, hourly musical extravaganzas, and children's stories.

If you are looking for a way to get that cozy Christmas feel a few weeks early, visit historic downtown Hattiesburg's Victorian Candlelit Christmas this year, on December 13-14 from dark to 9 p.m. For information on one of the Southeast's most special Christmas celebrations, call the Hattiesburg Convention and Visitors Bureau at 1-800-638-6877.

Shirley Jones performs at Magic

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Everyone's favorite TV mom Shirley Jones is set to perform at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Friday and Saturday, November 28th and 29th at 9 p.m. Tickets may be purchased for $14.95, $19.95 & $24.95 through the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster Outlet.

The Shirley Jones story is the quintessential American Cinderella story. Jones was born in 1934, in Charleroi, Pennsylvania and named after Shirley Temple. Immediately following her graduation from high school, Jones was spotted by a scout photographer for the coveted Miss Pittsburgh Beauty Pageant. She competed and won the title and others before being awarded a scholarship to the famed Pittsburgh Playhouse.

Following her apprenticeship at the playhouse, Jones borrowed a mere $160 from her father to move to New York City, promising to return home when the money was gone. That day would never come.

Jones learned that replacement try-outs for the chorus of "South Pacific" were underway at the St. James Theater and decided that the try-outs would be as good as any for her first professional audition.

She arrived at the theater to find over 85 girls scrambling for a place in line. Fifty-one girls later, it was Jones's turn.

The voice of Richard Rodgers, in a rare visit to a chorus audition, came out of the darkness asking if Miss Jones would be "kind enough to wait 20 minutes to sing for his associate, Mr. Oscar Hammerstein." She waited and sang, and the stage lit up. For Shirley Jones the struggle was over. Her first stage appearance was as one of the nurses in that same Broadway musical "South Pacific." Rodgers and Hammerstein then graduated their fresh discovery to a leading role and a national tour in their new musical "Me and Juliet." It was during this tour that preparations for the movie version of "Oklahoma!" began in Hollywood.

Competition for the coveted role of Laurey was mounting furiously and attracting national attention. Along with scores of contenders, Rodgers and Hammerstein arranged for young Shirley Jones to interrupt her tour to fly to Hollywood for a screen test and the rest is Hollywood history.

Television introduced another generation to Jones in the four-year hit series "The Partridge Family," in which she was the matriarch of the family's successful rock and roll band.

Don't miss Shirley Jones Friday and Saturday November 28th and 29th at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis! Must be 21 to attend.

Checking in with Kevin O'Connor

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

Not long after buying his 1894 Victorian house near Boston in October 2002, banker Kevin O'Connor sent an e-mail that changed the course of his life.

All he wanted was advice from "Ask This Old House," the spin-off and Thursday-night companion show of PBS staple "This Old House" (check local listings). He needed to know how to remove several layers of wallpaper and paint.

The next thing he knew, general contractor Tom Silva and a television crew were knocking at the door.

"We spent half a day just having a blast," recalls O'Connor. "They showed us how to strip five layers of wallpaper. Each one had paint over it. It was a disaster. Tommy ended up having to fix the plaster."

"We just had a great time, hit it off. We take a lunch break, I'm saying to myself, 'I've got Tom Silva in my house. Tom Silva's leaving in 45 minutes. Tom Silva is not eating lunch.' I dragged him around my house, 'What about this window? How do I fix this molding?'"

Little did O'Connor know that his enthusiasm and inquisitiveness did not go unnoticed.

Before long, "This Old House" host Steve Thomas gave his notice, and the hunt was on for a replacement. O'Connor knew something was up when, after innumerable phone calls between his wife, Kathleen, and the "This Old House" crew while setting up the initial visit, one call came in, for him.

"I pick up the phone," he says, "and I'm like, 'All right, I got this. Kevin O'Connor here, what can I do for you? Huh? You want me to what? Help out? I have no idea what you're talking about. Finally, I was like, 'Brass tacks, here. When you say 'help out,' do you mean hold stuff or what?'"

Kevin O'Connor

O'Connor had to go through a screen test, set up to reveal whether he could notice things on a job site and pose the sort of questions viewers might ask.

O'Connor also looks pretty innocent. "The look is fake," he explains. "The ignorance is completely genuine."

Birthplace: New Jersey.

Construction cred: Along with his brothers and sisters, O'Connor toured many job sites with his father, a civil engineer.

Education: Bachelor of Arts in history from The College of the Holy Cross in 1990; MBA from Boston University in 1999.

Last job before television: Vice president in a bank's finance group.

Fan mail: C/O "This Old House," WGBH, P.O. Box 200, Boston, MA 02134.

Tomlin accepts Twain Prize in PBS Kennedy Center special

By John Crook
© Zap2it

When the committee bestowing the Mark Twain Prize notified its newest honoree, the phone call probably sounded like this:

"One ringy-dingy. Two ringy-dingies ..."

Known around the world as irascible telephone operator Ernestine and an entire gallery of other vivid comic characters, Lily Tomlin is the 2003 recipient of the Kennedy Center's Mark Twain Prize for American Humor. The 64-year-old actress and comic will be honored in a 90-minute special, "On Stage at the Kennedy Center: The Mark Twain Prize," airing Wednesday, Nov. 26 on most PBS affiliates (check local listings).

"I am truly honored to be recognized in the name of Mark Twain, an American humorist who was beloved throughout his lifetime and beyond, even as he imparted a strong and vital social consciousness that still resonates today," Tomlin says.

Along with her longtime writer and partner, Jane Wagner, Tomlin has been widely acclaimed for her smart observational comedy, which scores laughs without being mean-spirited.

"Topical humor has never really appealed to me, because it has no shelf life and it's just not 'human' enough," she explains. "I always was much more interested in people and individuals, and in culture types."

The Detroit native says comedy got her both into and out of scrapes in high school.

"I was considered the great alibi artist of any school I attended," she laughs. "I would stay out of school 12, 13 days in a row, literally, if my hair didn't turn out right. ... (But) I would get well enough to go cheer at a football game."

Trista Rehn

As the season changes, celebrities reflect on last summer. "In comparison to the rest of my summers, it was not so low-key," says Trista Rehn of ABC's "Trista and Ryan's Wedding" Wednesday, Nov. 26. "Nei-

'Bachelorette'-hood ends with 'Trista and Ryan's Wedding'

By Jay Bobbin

The millions who watched "The Bachelorette" choose her man last season can attend the wedding now. Trista Rehn and Ryan Sutter go through the stages of mapping out the ceremony - and then face each other at the altar - in "Trista and Ryan's Wedding," an unscripted ABC miniseries beginning Wednesday, Nov. 26, and continuing the next two Wednesdays. Having cameras tail them through the process may seem intrusive, but it's worth any pain: ABC is picking up the tab for the nuptials ... and paying the lovebirds a reported $1 million to cover their knot-tying.

In the opening hour, Rehn, an ex-physical therapist from St. Louis, and Sutter, a Colorado firefighter, meet with wedding planner Mindy Weiss and decide on many details of their big event (including two Badgley Mischka gowns, several Kenneth Cole tuxedos and Lenox china). Week two features the bachelor and bachelorette parties, held at the resort Le Meridien on the Caribbean island of St. Maarten. Finally, Trista and Ryan take their vows at the Lodge at Rancho Mirage in Palm Springs, Calif.

"It's finally coming together, and it feels pretty good," Rehn says. "Of course, we're in the midst of lots of craziness right now, but I think I can see the light at the end of the tunnel. It's been a lot of fun and we've gotten to do some really cool things, but we're kind of ready to start our life together as normal people. We might have to deal with (ongoing fame) to some degree, but we're living in Vail, Colo., where the people are kind of over it already. They don't really care that much."

Rehn doesn't deny small-town life has been an adjustment for her, especially after the fast pace and the media glare she experienced constantly during her "Bachelorette" days. "When you're in love," she reasons, "you do whatever it takes to make the relationship work. Moving Ryan out of Colorado would not have been good for him. He's been there all his life and he loves it. He's been on a leave of absence from the firehouse, but we stop by and say 'Hi' every now and then."

Having ABC cover the cost of her wedding works just fine for Rehn. "Some people think Ryan and I are just money-hungry," she says, "but you know what? We're realists. If someone asked you, 'Do you want us to throw you this fabulously expensive wedding that you would never be able to afford on your own?' would you turn it down? There are pros and cons, the major con being that we haven't had as much privacy. Obviously, there will be cameras at the wedding, but people normally have videographers at their weddings anyway. In our case, there will just be more of them."

"Also, more people will have access to the (resulting) video. I'm happy to share the love I have for Ryan. You know that expression about people wanting to shout from the rooftops that they're in love? That's how I think Ryan and I feel. You want to tell everybody that you're so happy with this other person, and what better way is there to do that than being on national television?"

Before they say "I do," Trista Rehn ("The Bachelorette") and Ryan Sutter have many details to handle in "Trista and Ryan's Wedding," an unscripted miniseries that begins Wednesday on ABC.

Still, Rehn admits she's had some trouble letting others handle aspects of her wedding she'd rather take care of herself. "A lot of people are doing stuff I think would be fun," she says. "I'm an organization freak, so while having others helping out is a blessing, I've felt at times like having meetings to talk to them about such-and-such. I've kind of wanted to get my hands dirty, because I've been wanting to plan my wedding forever. A friend's wedding was scheduled two weeks before mine, and I was feeling a little guilty because she was telling me about all this stuff she had to do. That hasn't been the case for me."

'SVU' actress made decision to leave show

Q Will Stephanie March be returning to "Law & Order: Special Victims Unit"? We like her very much. -Jerry Bloom, Chicago.

A March scored with many viewers with her portrayal of cool but compassionate Assistant District Attorney Alexandra "Alex" Cabot, but the beautiful 29-year-old actress decided it was time to move on to other things in her career. On "SVU," her character is in the federal witness protection program, leaving open the possibility of a return at some point.

"Dick Wolf was one of the best employers I've ever had," March says of her time on the hit crime drama. "I loved working on the show and I will miss it very much. It's just time to move on. The producers have been wonderful to leave the door open if I should want to come back."

Q Where is "Monk"? Tony Shalhoub has won an Emmy and a Golden Globe for his title role, yet I can't find it anywhere! -Betty Williby, Roseville, Calif.

A I'm glad you asked, because USA Network recently announced that it has moved up the season premiere of the hit comedy-mystery in response to viewer enthusiasm. New episodes are set to begin airing Jan. 16, in the same time period where the cable channel has been showing "Monk" repeats.

More people seem to be confused by the scheduling of "Monk" than any other series that I can remember. The show looks and feels like a network program to most fans, but since it is a USA Network original series, it doesn't launch its seasons on the same fall schedule that shows on the commercial networks follow. "Monk" also produces fewer new episodes per season due to cable budget constraints.

Q Is Jason Ritter, who plays the disabled brother of "Joan of Arcadia" on CBS, related to the late John Ritter? -Sun City Center, Fla.

A Yes, Jason was at the hospital when John Ritter, his father, died unexpectedly in September.

Turkey Day goes to the dogs with the National Dog Show

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

On a blistering October day in Los Angeles, Eddie the dog from "Frasier" is celebrating his birthday, but it's not at least at first - a happy occasion. Eddie, a Jack Russell terrier, thinks he's 35 in human years (as evidenced by the "35" candle on top of his elaborate birthday cake), and the news has him despondent, unable to lift his head from his paws. But with a little help from actor John O'Hurley and the Purina Web site, better news may be on the way.

Inside the cool confines of O'Hurley's hillside home, the party is being staged for the benefit of NBC's coverage of the National Dog Show, presented by Purina. The Kennel Club of Philadelphia event, taped Nov. 15 and 16 at the Fort Washington Expo Center in Fort Washington, Pa., airs for its second year on NBC; on Thursday, Nov. 27, immediately following the telecast of the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The taping is for promotional spots talking about a new service from Purina, which allows dog owners to determine their canines' true age, depending on health, breed and other factors.

Seated across the kitchen counter from O'Hurley - seen on "Seinfeld" and UPN's recently benched "The Mulets" - is Enzo, the 4-year-old son of Moose, the original Eddie. With Moose now approaching his 13th birthday (in dog years), Enzo often fills in.

Asked how working with Enzo compares to his long-wigged co-stars on "The Mulets," O'Hurley quips in his smooth baritone voice, "He's much easier to work with. He does exactly as he's told. I think it's just the concept of having shorter hair."

Getting Enzo to look sad, look happy and bark on cue (which is a lot harder than one might think) is an off-camera trainer equipped with treats, a clicker and other tools of the trade.

O'Hurley's own dogs - a Maltese and a dachshund/Lab mix he rescued from the Hollywood hills - are sequestered for the duration of Enzo's visit. But that is not the only reason O'Hurley's plush couch has not a single white hair from the Maltese's luxurious coat.

"You know what happens, I pick up most of it and put it up here," O'Hurley says, pointing to the top of his own head, covered in a considerable amount of white hair. "Some of this is actually real."

O'Hurley is returning for his second year as host of the two-hour NBC telecast. Offering commentary is canine expert David Frei, who does the same job for USA Network's successful yearly presentation of the Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show in New York.

"I'm in a tough position," Frei says, "having to be John O'Hurley's partner. He's, like, four inches taller; he's got great hair; he's going to have some great golf tan. I told the director, 'You be real nice to me.'"

While Eddie's position as NBC's top dog makes him a natural for the Purina spots, he also represents a new element in this year's show. Terriers of Eddie's type were only recently recognized by the AKC as its 145th breed, but not without controversy.

As with the similar fox terrier, Jack Russells come with either smooth or wiry coats, but they also come in two body types. One is a foot or so tall at the withers, with longer, straight legs. The other is low to the ground, with very short, often bowed legs. Both types have their enthusiastic proponents, but only the long-legged dogs appeared in the AKC show ring.

As of April 1, 2003, at the request of the national breed club, the AKC changed the name to the Parson Russell terrier, another variant of the name of the Parson John Russell, the British clergyman who developed the breed.

At the same time, the breed club became the Parson (not "Jack") Russell Terrier Association of America.

Frei explains, "Finally, they said, 'Listen, we're going to become the Parson Russell terrier, and you short-legged guys, you will still be the Jack Russell terrier.'"

This sort of dog-world intrigue was part of the inspiration for director Christopher Guest's 2000 "mockumentary" "Best in Show," which satirizes dog-show competitors and TV coverage.

The success of that movie - added to the 10 million people who tune into Westminster each year - inspired NBC to go to the dogs last Thanksgiving. The result was the largest ratings ever for a single telecast of a dog show, with 19 million people watching all or part.

"NBC Sports said it would be fun to re-create the feeling of 'Best in Show,'" O'Hurley says, "but give it the dignity of sports. It's like any special-interest world - they're their own rolling repertory company."

"We're like any other segment in society," Frei says. "Whether they're, speedboat racers or stamp collectors or baseball fans - we've got people to laugh at."

Relaxing in his home with Eddie from "Frasier," John O'Hurley prepares to host NBC's coverage of the National Dog Show, which airs Thanksgiving Day.

While USA's coverage of Westminster is straightforward, NBC goes more for the fun.

"It's looking for the entertainment value of being on this great family holiday," Frei says, "when you know there's going to be 5-year-old kids with 70-year-old grandparents, and everybody in between."

The show coverage also offers viewers information on choosing a suitable breed. Pounds and shelters are filled with the results of poor pet choices. Likely included in that are Jack (or Parson) Russell terriers bought because people fell in love with Eddie and didn't know that small size doesn't necessarily equal low maintenance.

'Angel' touches Gary Sinise in Hallmark drama on CBS

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

The start of the holiday season often evokes warm thoughts and heartfelt movies, including the "Hallmark Hall of Fame" movie "Fallen Angel."

Based on the novel by Don J. Snyder, who also wrote the teleplay, the gentle drama airs Sunday, Nov. 23, on CBS.

Emmy winner Gary Sinise ("George Wallace") stars as a driven attorney who revisits his past and discovers what he's missing. Long estranged from his recently deceased father, Terry McQuinn (Sinise) returns to his Maine hometown to handle the elder man's affairs. Those tasks encompass an estate the late man prepared for tenants, including Katherine Wentworth (Joely Richardson, "Nip/Tuck"), who plans a Christmas visit with her adoptive daughter (Jordy Benattar). Terry decides to stay and get the place ready for them.

He soon realizes he and Katherine share a link from childhood. They were with her doctor father (played in early scenes by Rick Roberts, "L.A. Doctors") on the night of a tragedy that prompted her dad to run away. As the present-day relationship between Terry and Katherine deepens, and he learns more about her father's fate, he debates whether to open seemingly healed emotional wounds.

Although "Fallen Angel" marks his first lead role in a Hallmark production, Sinise co-starred in the company's 1989 film "My Name Is Bill W." "This role was very different for me, one of the reasons I did it," the actor says. "Usually, I play a character with some kind of affliction or accent or whatever. The challenge of this was to play it as simply as possible, and to look for internal nuances."

"Here's a guy who finds out things about this woman's past that are going to be very painful for her. How does he deal with that? You have to play that in an economical way, because this is a short film. You have to tell the story while not revealing too much too soon, and that was the fun of doing it. I just thought it was heartwarming while having some good, dramatic twists and turns."

"Fallen Angel" was filmed in and around Toronto. Sinise has seen Canada a lot lately, having worked there in "The Human Stain," the theatrical movie that casts him opposite

Anthony Hopkins, Nicole Kidman and Ed Harris. "Robert Benton is a terrific director," Sinise says of making that film, "and you have those actors, plus a great script. It was simply a pleasure to work on."

"The Human Stain" and "Fallen Angel" signal a re-emergence for Sinise, who reflects, "It had been a while since I'd been offered anything I wanted to do. I kept turning things down until my wife said, 'You haven't worked in almost a year. What's the reason?' I told her, 'I'm waiting for the next really gutsy challenge.' She said, 'Well, are you just going to sit around and wait forever?' She turned the key on my deciding to do 'Fallen Angel,' and I'm really glad she did."

Hits like "Forrest Gump," "Apollo 13" and "Ransom" have kept Sinise in the minds of moviemakers, but he intends to return to stage work with the Chicago-based Steppenwolf Theatre Company, which he co-founded. "The last thing we did was 'One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest' on Broadway in 2001, and I may do something late in the 2004-05 season. It was 30 years ago that we started that company, so it's been a big part of my life."

Emmy winner Gary Sinise stars as a work-obsessed lawyer reunited, through a personal tragedy, with a childhood acquaintance (Joely Richardson) in the "Hallmark Hall of Fame" drama presentation of the novel "Fallen Angel," premiering Sunday on CBS.

ESPN chronicles Roger Clemens' final season

By George Dickie
© Zap2it

For most, momentous personal occasions are usually marked by the presence of a video or still camera.

For Roger Clemens, pursuing his 300th victory and a World Series title in the final season of his career, a camera crew from ESPN Original Entertainment and Major League Baseball Productions tagged along.

The result can be seen Sunday, Nov. 23, when ESPN airs two episodes of its sports reality series "The Season" devoted to the retiring New York Yankees ace: "Quest for 300" (a rebroadcast from July), followed by the premiere of "The Final Pitch."

EOE coordinating producer Mike Antinoro explains the project evolved from both ESPN's desire to take advantage of Clemens' impending milestone, and the pitchers' desire to document the final year of his career. "We're always looking each year for compelling subjects for 'The Season,' and as much as we love the series, you do need a compelling subject," Antinoro says. "We work with MLB Productions and try to come up with three or four projects to do together. And independently, we both thought of Clemens. So, they approached him first, and then at the same time as they were approaching him, he was actually approaching us with some ideas of his own. I think he really wanted to document this season. I think it was important for him to kind of have it done. So it really was not a tough sell, to be honest with you. It was pretty easy."

"The Season," billed as giving viewers "total access" to a sports team, does just that with Clemens - with the athlete's blessing. "It's great when that happens, obviously, because you know you're going to get cooperation from the guy," Antinoro says, "because often some people think, 'Hey, this is a great idea. I'll let them follow me.' But when things get tough, they don't want you around anymore. But he was very professional. He understood, 'If I'm in on this, I'm in for better or for worse.' So, it was good to work with him."

And, according to Antinoro, there is good and bad. "I'm sure he would have preferred not to have cameras in his face when it took three or four games to win No. 300," Antinoro says. "That was probably not his most favorite time for us to be around, but he was good about it."

"That was something that was really important to us, from the beginning, is that this can't be - for lack of a better word - basically an infomercial. This is a documentary. This should be journalistically accurate. You know, there are ups and downs, and honestly, it's not a good story - you can't have a peak without a valley or else it's not very interesting. So he understood that, and honestly, he had a pretty good year if you think about it. There weren't that many valleys for him."

By the time career victory No. 300 came at Yankee Stadium on June 13, the spotlight on Clemens was already intense. He had failed in three previous attempts to achieve the coveted milestone, so the media was asking questions. But Antinoro reports that Clemens had bigger worries that day. "It was such a big thing, he had his family with him, his extended family also, brothers and sisters and stuff, at every game," he says. "So, it became a thing where, 'OK, now I'm going on the road. I gotta bring my whole family on the road and worry about where everybody's staying; is everybody OK?' And that became, I think, more of a burden to him than the game. I don't think he was really worried, like, 'Hey, I'm not pitching well. I'm not going to win the game.' It was more like, 'Omigod! Now I've got to take the whole family to Detroit.' Now, I've got to bring them all back to New York."

At press time, Clemens had yet to sit down with ESPN to discuss the Yankees' eventful postseason, which culminated in a six-game World Series loss to the Florida Marlins. But as with the rest of the project, Antinoro expects Clemens to be his usual candid self. "He's a straightforward guy and he doesn't try to be too political," he says. "He tells you what he thinks, and for better or for worse, he's pretty good about that, which is great in a project like this because you really want to know what the person's thinking while he's going through it. He was very straightforward with us on that."

"New York Giants at Tampa Bay Buccaneers" Monday, Nov. 24 (ABC, 9 p.m. ET): Just like the last time the New York Giants played in Tampa, Fla. - Super Bowl XXXV against the Ravens - a menacing defense awaits, this time in the form of the Buccaneers' unit. Derrick Brooks and Co. will rely on their ball-hawking quickness to contain a Giants offense that has quick-strike ability. Durable quarterback Kerry Collins is its linchpin, and the numerous options at his disposal include all-purpose back Tiki Barber and tight end Jeremy Shockey.

"The Skins Game" Saturday, Nov. 29 (ABC, 4:30 p.m. ET): Just six months after making history by playing in a PGA event, Annika Sorenstam does so again when she becomes the first woman to compete in The Skins Game. She'll tee off from the Trilogy Golf Club in La Quinta, Calif., alongside Fred Couples, Phil Mickelson and defending champion Mark O'Meara, seeking a chunk of the $1 million purse. The two-day event concludes Sunday.

"Ice Wars: North America vs. the World" Saturday, Nov. 29 (CBS, 9 p.m. ET): A controversy at the 2002 Winter Olympics yielded two gold-medal sets of pairs skaters, and they face off again in this newest edition of an annual special. Jamie Sale and David Pelletier compete against Elena Berezhnaya and Anton Sikharulidze, while in another challenge, it's Brian Boitano and Kurt Browning vs. Ilia Kulik and Victor Petrenko. Nicole Bobek and Oksana Baiul also have a showdown on ice.

Movie: Overboard

Garry Marshall ("Murphy Brown") directed this 1987 comedy about an heiress who throws her carpenter overboard rather than pay him for work he did on her yacht. When she loses her memory, he gets revenge by convincing her they are married. Goldie Hawn, Katherine Helmond, Kurt Russell, Edward Herrmann and Roddy McDowall star.

Movie: A Walk to Remember

Surprisingly potent at the box office, thanks largely to fans of its young stars, this 2002 drama based on the Nicholas Sparks novel casts Shane West ("Once and Again") as a popular athlete who finds love with someone unexpected. He has to rely on a sheltered classmate — a minister's daughter (singer Mandy Moore, who also performs on the soundtrack) — for school help, then finds himself falling for her.

Saturday

Movie: King Ralph

The entire immediate British royal family exits stage right in this 1991 comedy based on the Emlyn Williams novel. In a desperate attempt to find a leader, genealogists discover a very remote link to Ralph Jones (John Goodman), a crass lounge singer from Las Vegas. Peter O'Toole, John Hurt, Joely Richardson and Leslie Phillips co-star.

10:35 a.m. on AMC

Movie: Rooster Cogburn

Katharine Hepburn and John Wayne team up to find a murderer in this 1975 Western directed by Stuart Millar ("When the Legends Die"). Hepburn stars as Eula Goodnight, a preacher's daughter whose father has been killed by an outlaw named Hawk (Richard Jordan). A crotchety relationship develops when Goodnight joins a former marshal (Wayne) to track down the killer. John McIntire, Richard Romancito and Anthony Zerbe co-star.

TV Jumble

Heather Tom takes an unexpected hike

By Candace Havens
© Zap2it

Heather Tom has left her role as Victoria Newman in "The Young and the Restless" to play Kelly Cramer in "One Life to Live."

The news came as a surprise to the executives at "Y&R," who had been trying to renegotiate a contract with Tom.

In addition to her new "OLTL" role, Tom was given the opportunity to be a guest host on ABC talk show "The View."

The bad news is that Tracy Melchior, who had played Kelly in "OLTL" for the last three months, is out of a job.

In other news: Michael Damian returned to his "Y&R" role of Danny Romalotti on Nov. 14. No word on how long he will be around. The producers want to see how the audience responds to Danny before making a decision.

Dear Candace: Does Michael Easton think that we can see him as John McBain? The dark clothes, long straggly hair and scruffy beard make it look like Caleb on "Port Charles" moved to Llanview on "OLTL." -Betty Roberts, Marion, Mass.

Dear Reader: You've touched on something important in that the executives of "OLTL" want Easton's "PC" fans to easily identify him.

Dear Candace: I know a lot of people write in to complain about their soap operas, but I wanted to say how much I've enjoyed "As the World Turns" over the years. My mother always loved the show and passed that on to me.

Watching everyone grow up on the show has been such a pleasure, and most of the stories are done in such good taste. Not to mention the wonderful actors who bring those stories to life. I hope that it lasts forever. -Mary Kaye Sandoval, Hereford, Texas.

Dear Reader: It is nice to hear positive comments about daytime television.

Dear Candace: Can you please tell me how long "Y&R" has been on the air? I'd also like to know which actor has been on the show the longest. -Bonnie King, Marinette, Wis.

Dear Reader: "Y&R" has been around since 1973. Jeanne Cooper

(Katherine Chancellor) has been there since that first year.

Eve

Shelly (Eve) worries when J.T.'s (Jason George) ex-girlfriend (guest star Stacey Dash, "Clueless") returns to town in the new episode "The Ex Factor." 8:30 p.m. on 4-CBS

Two and a Half Men

Series star Charlie Sheen and his wife, Denise Richards ("The World Is Not Enough"), appear together in "Scary Movie 3," and they're also teamed in the new episode "Merry Thanksgiving." Charlie then rethinks their relationship and tries to prove himself to her over a Thanksgiving dinner.

8:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Average Joe

The unscripted series continues with a 90-minute episode, as a dinner with Melana is up for grabs. Her suitors compete in highly physical contests, and those who lose will end up serving the meal rather than eating it. Melana also goes on individual and group dates with the guys to determine which man she'll eliminate next. Kathy Griffin is the host.

'Tis the season — well, almost — so finalists from the first two years of the talent competition gather to perform holiday tunes in this new special. The two winners, Kelly Clarkson and Ruben Studdard, are on hand to spread musical cheer, as are first runners-up Justin Guarini and Clay Aiken, along with Tamyra Gray, Christina Christian and Kimberley Locke. Last summer's "American Juniors" winners also appear.

Judging Amy

Amy (Amy Brenneman) is faced with deciding whether a baby should be raised within the Amish culture in the new episode "Ruminspringa." Maxine (Tyne Daly) doesn't take her exclusion from an important meeting lying down.

9:10 p.m. on AMC

Movie: The Crucible

Nineteen Puritans were hanged in 1692 after a group of girls accused them of witchcraft. Arthur Miller used the tragedy in his 1953 play as a metaphor for the paranoia and betrayal of the McCarthy era. In this 1996 screen version, Miller reinterprets the story as an investigation of sexuality, repression and mass hysteria. Winona Ryder plays a girl so afraid of her own passionate psyche, she is driven to project her sins onto others.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Movie: Never Been Kissed

A plain-Jane newspaper editor (Drew Barrymore) relives teen indignities when she's assigned to go under cover as a high-school student in this 1999 comedy. With a little help from her brother (David Arquette), a one-time high-school hotshot, she finds it much more pleasant the second time around. Too bad she can't tell the teacher (Michael Vartan, "Alias") who turns her on — it's mutual — that she's not really underage.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

A convict sentenced for pedophilia breaks out of prison and stalks his former victim again in the new episode "Escape." To find the criminal, Benson (Mariska Hargitay) teams with a federal marshal (guest star Craig Bierko) she used to be involved with romantically. The stakes rise when the escapee kidnaps his target, then takes Benson captive once she locates the fugitive.

11 p.m. on 25-FOX

One on One

Robin Givens guest stars as a sportswriter who attracts Flex (Flex Alexander) in the new episode "Spy Games." Hoping to score points with her, he arranges for her son (guest star Romeo) to be tutored by Breanna (Kyla Pratt). The student then steals Flex's stories and passes them to his mother. Duane (Kelly Perine) is paid handsomely to write an advertising jingle that Amaz (Robert Richard) actually devises.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Movie: Josie and the Pussycats

The Archie Comics characters come to life in this bouncy 2001 comedy. Rachael Leigh Cook, Tara Reid and Rosario Dawson don feline ears and tails as the members of the all-female music group, who are lured by a recording mogul (Alan Cumming) to sign on with his label. They don't realize that he has evil intentions to distribute subliminal messages through their hit tunes.

7 p.m. on 19-PBS

National Geographic

Despite its instinct for survival, the jaguar faces extinction unless scientists help preserve its habitat. The work of one such person, Dr. Alan Rabinowitz, is profiled in the new special "In Search of the Jaguar." As he toils for the potential benefit of the animal, Rabinowitz is facing his own crisis: chronic lymphatic leukemia, which has no known cure. Glenn Close narrates.

7 p.m. on 54-UPN

Star Trek: Enterprise

Sooner or later, characters from every "Star Trek" show find their way to the present day, and it happens for Archer and T'Pol (Scott Bakula, Jolene Blalock) in the new episode "Carpen-ter Street." They get involved in a chase through time — and Detroit — as they pursue Xindi operatives known to have devised a devastating biological weapon early in the 21st century.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The O.C.

The aftermath of Thanksgiving means more than letting the big meal settle in the new episode "The Secret." Summer and Anna (Rachel Bilson, Samaira Armstrong) still resent Seth's (Adam Brody) holiday behavior. Kirsten (Kelly Rowan) hides something from Sandy (Peter Gallagher), who finds out about it while tackling Jimmy's (Tate Donovan) financial woes. Ryan and Luke (Benjamin McKenzie, Chris Carmack) team on a history assignment.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Trista and Ryan's Wedding

An event so big that it takes three weeks to unfold fully — on television, anyway — this new, unscripted miniseries traces the nuptials of last season's "Bachelorette" and the man she chose at the end of that show. In Part 1, Trista Rehn and firefighter Ryan Sutter start going through all the stages of planning their lavish nuptials, which shouldn't be too hard for them to endure: ABC is footing the bill for the whole shebang.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

The King of Queens

Doug and Carrie (Kevin James, Leah Remini) debate, with each other and with their holiday guests, how far Thanksgiving spirit should extend in the new episode "Thanks, Man." A man (guest star Nick Offerman) who says his car broke down seeks help at the Heffernan residence, prompting everyone inside to have his or her own opinion on whether to let the stranger in. Lou Ferrigno ("The Incredible Hulk") also guest stars.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

On Stage at the Kennedy Center: The Mark Twain Prize 2003

"One ringy-dingy ..." You just know you'll hear that line as Lily Tomlin becomes the sixth recipient of the honor in this new special, taped in late October at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. Many of Tomlin's peers celebrate her induction into the select group that includes previous Mark Twain Prize winners Richard Pryor, Jonathan Winters, Carl Reiner, Whoopi Goldberg and Bob Newhart.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN

The Stone Cold Truth

Sometimes it takes a tender man to be tough, as this new special demonstrates. Wrestling icon Stone Cold Steve Austin allows viewers into his private world by discussing his life out of the ring, with added comments from several of the people who know him best — his ex-wives and children. WWE mentor Vince McMahon also is interviewed during the hour.

8 p.m. and DSC

Unsolved History

The Great Chicago Fire of 1871 remains one of the most unforgettable conflagrations ever, which hasn't done much for the legacy of Mrs. O'Leary, whose cow has long been thought to have started the blaze by kicking over a lantern. Whether that is myth or fact is examined in this new episode, using modern techniques to assess the real reason for the fire that lasted three days.

8 p.m. on TNT

Movie: Heat

A top-notch criminal and a dedicated police detective face off in this 1995 crime drama starring Robert De Niro and Al Pacino. The crook (De Niro) is about to retire, and New Zealand looks good to him. But the police officer (Pacino) who has been chasing him for years wants to put him away before he can escape. Val Kilmer and Jon Voight also star in director Michael Mann's lengthy but energetic film.

Movie: Big Daddy

Adam Sandler struck box-office gold with this amusing 1999 tale of an irresponsible, would-be lawyer. He becomes the temporary guardian of his absent roommate's (Jon Stewart) abandoned son (a role shared by twins Cole and Dylan Sprouse). Sandler's character develops an attachment to the boy, as well as to the sister (Joey Lauren Adams) of his roommate's fiancée (Leslie Mann). Joseph Bologna co-stars as Sandler's disapproving father.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: Frosty the Snowman

Jackie Vernon provides the voice of Frosty, the legendary snowman with a corn-cob pipe and a button nose, in this animated classic. Frosty comes to life when a magician's hat lands on his head. With the help of some children, he heads for the North Pole before he melts. But he is pursued by the magician (voice of Billy De Wolfe), who wants his hat back. Jimmy Durante narrates the tale.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Hope & Faith

After an aunt dies, Hope and Faith (Faith Ford, Kelly Ripa) are reluctant to attend the funeral in "Remembrance of Rings Past." They believe their deceased relative stole a ring from their mother many years earlier — and when they see the ring on one of the corpse's fingers, the results aren't pretty. Charley (Ted McGinley) doesn't know how to turn off the household burglar alarm.

8 p.m. on TBS

Movie: Crocodile Dundee

A U.S. reporter (Linda Kozlowski) travels to Australia to interview a well-known safari guide and poacher (Paul Hogan) who earned the nickname "Crocodile" after defeating one of the reptiles with his bare hands. She is so taken with him, she decides to take him back to New York with her. Directed by Peter Faiman, the 1986 comedy also stars John Meillon and David Gulpilil.

8:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Life With Bonnie

The musical and comical Smothers Brothers, Tom and Dick, make a now-rare TV appearance in "Everything Old Is New Again." They play the contractors who are repairing David's (David Alan Grier) house, and Bonnie (Bonnie Hunt) appeals to them to work faster so she can get David out of her home. They bargain their way into an appearance with Bonnie on her morning TV show.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: The Handler

Every FBI agent has to get early experience somewhere. For the undercover operatives in this series, it's supplied by agency veteran Joe Renato — played by Joe Pantoliano, looking much livelier than in his last appearance as Ralphie in "The Sopranos." In the pilot episode, Lola Gaudini, Hill Harper ("City of Angels") and Anna Belknap play the infiltrators thrust into dicey situations on Renato's watch.

Saturday Best Bets

3:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC Golf

Just six months after making history by playing in a PGA event, Annika Sorenstam does so again when she becomes the first woman to compete in The Skins Game. She'll tee off from the Trilogy Golf Club in La Quinta, Calif., alongside Fred Couples, Phil Mickelson and Mark O'Meara, seeking a chunk of the $1 million purse. The two-day event concludes Sunday.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Movie: The Family Man

Nicolas Cage goes the "It's a Wonderful Life" route in this 2000 fantasy-comedy, casting him as a work-driven bachelor who magically gets to live the life he passed up years earlier. He suddenly finds himself married to a former girlfriend (Tea Leoni) and enjoying domesticity more than he ever imagined, forcing him to make big decisions about his future. Don Cheadle and Jeremy Piven co-star.

7 p.m. on NICK

All Grown Up

The Rugrats do grow up — somewhat, at least — as this animated spinoff of the popular series premieres. It incorporates flashbacks from the original show as Tommy (voice of E.G. Daily) pursues a filmmaking career. In "Coupe De Ville," Lil (voice of Kath Soucie) wants to find her own social status at school and be independent from her messy twin brother, Phil.

7 p.m. on TNT

Movie: Lethal Weapon 4

Even their bosses agree that Murtaugh and Riggs (Danny Glover, Mel Gibson) are getting too old for their jobs, so the odd-couple detectives are promoted to captains in the hope of keeping them off the streets. No such luck, especially when they get wind of a Chinese immigrant-smuggling ring. Chris Rock ups the comic relief in this 1998 sequel as a young cop who's about to make Murtaugh a granddad.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Drumline

Can a young man from Harlem find happiness as a member of a college marching band? That's the question facing the hero (Nick Cannon) in this engrossing 2002 drama about beating the odds. Though he's a gifted drummer, the youth develops self-doubts he must overcome to help the rest of his musical team succeed. Orlando Jones, Zoe Saldana ("Crossroads") and Leonard Roberts co-star.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS Figure Skating

A controversy at the 2002

Winter Olympics yielded two gold-medal sets of pairs
Jamie Sale and David Pelletier

skaters, and they face off again in this newest edition of "Ice Wars: North America vs. the World." Jamie Sale and David Pelletier compete against Elena Berezhnaya and Anton Sikharulidze, while in another challenge, it's Brian Boitano and Kurt Browning vs. Ilia Kulik and Viktor Petrenko. The program was taped at the Pepsi Arena in Albany, N.Y.

8:35 p.m. on TMC

Movie: The Score

After a close call, a master thief (Robert De Niro) wants to leave the profession, but he's handed a job he can't resist in this 2001 drama. Enlisted by his money man (Marlon Brando) to steal a valuable, heavily guarded sceptre before it's sent from Montreal back to France, he teams with a hotheaded inside man (Edward Norton) to pull off the crime. The biggest problem? Neither of them can trust the other. Angela Bassett co-stars.

(Ratings for each film begin with a "star" rating - one star meaning "poor," four meaning "excellent" - followed by the Motion Picture Association of America rating, and then by a family-viewing guide, the key for which appears below.)

STARTING THIS WEEK (New releases):

"BRUCE ALMIGHTY": It had been a while since Jim Carrey had a box-office smash when this clever comedy, reuniting him with "Ace Ventura: Pet Detective" director Tom Shadyac, proved he still had the stuff to pack audiences into theaters. He plays a Buffalo, N.Y., television reporter who reacts badly to being passed over for an anchorman job. Lamenting his lot in life to the heavens, he gets a surprising gift from God (Morgan Freeman) - power over virtually everything. Answering others' prayers puts him to the test. Jennifer Aniston also stars. DVD extras: audio commentary by Shadyac; deleted scenes; outtakes; "The Process of Jim" documentary.  (PG-13: AS, P)

"X2: X-MEN UNITED": The specially gifted mutants face more opposition from society in director Bryan Singer's well-crafted sequel to the first live-action version of the Marvel comic book. They suffer blame for an assault possibly committed by another mutant, but it's a military general's (Brian Cox) plot to have a clear field for targeting the president of the United States: Hugh Jackman, Halle Berry, Patrick Stewart, Anna Paquin, James Marsden, Famke Janssen, Ian McKellen and Rebecca Romijn-Stamos return. Alan Cumming is an effective addition.

DVD extras: audio commentaries by Singer and production personnel; theatrical trailers; "making-of" documentaries; deleted scenes; photo gallery.  (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"MY HOUSE IN UMBRIA": A romance author, played by Oscar winner Maggie Smith ("The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie"), has an unforgettable train trip in this engrossing, made-for-HBO 2003 drama movie based on William Trevor's novel. En route to Milan, Italy, the train is bombed. The writer invites the other survivors (Ronnie Barker, Benno Furmann; Emmy Clarke) to her Umbria home. Chris Cooper ("Adaptation") and Giancarlo Giannini also star.  (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"MAN ON THE TRAIN": Jean Rochefort and Johnny Hallyday, two of Europe's most enduring stars, are teamed in director Patrice Leconte's ("Girl on the Bridge") intriguing drama about two men who each mull whether the other person's life is more fulfilling. A crook (Hallyday) who's plotting a bank robbery in the French Alps finds shelter with a retired teacher (Rochefort). Their conversations lead each of them to try to view life - and possibly live it - from the other man's stance.  (R: AS, P, V)

"ELLEN DEGENERES: HERE AND NOW": She was heard in the Disney movie "Finding Nemo" and she's now a syndicated talk show host, but in this highly enjoyable special produced for HBO, DeGeneres engages in her singular brand of stand-up funny business. Taped in May 2003 at the Beacon Theater in New York, the performance finds DeGeneres ruminating on various aspects of modern life - all of them filtered through her common-sense perspective. She gets off to a great beginning by commenting on modern television.  (Not rated: AS)

"THE LOST WORLD: SEASON ONE": After inspiring several movie versions, the classic adventure novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle sparked this syndicated television series, with the first-year stories offered in a six-DVD set. Filmed in Australia, the show offers relatively sophisticated special effects as Peter McCauley plays Challenger, the leader of an expedition to a prehistoric world. The dinosaurs and other monsters tended to trail off in subsequent seasons, but they're very much in evidence here. Other stars include Jennifer O'Dell, David Orth, Rachel Blakely and Will Snow.  (Not rated: P, V)

COMING SOON (Upcoming releases):

"PIRATES OF THE CARIBBEAN: THE CURSE OF THE BLACK PEARL" (Dec. 2): The Disney theme-park ride comes to life, with Johnny Depp and Orlando Bloom as heroic buccaneers. (PG: AS, P, V)

"BAD BOYS II" (Dec. 9): Will Smith and Martin Lawrence are reunited as Miami police detectives out to stop a drug kingpin whose wares are leaving a lethal trail. (R: AS, P, V)

"GIGLI" (Dec. 9): When a gangland minion (Ben Affleck) seems unable to complete an assignment, a female counterpart (Jennifer Lopez) is brought in to finish the job. (R: AS, P, V)

"FREAKY FRIDAY" (Dec. 16): Jamie Lee Curtis and Lindsay Lohan play a mother and daughter who magically switch bodies in this remake of the Disney-studio comedy. (PG: AS)

"THE LEAGUE OF EXTRAORDINARY GENTLEMEN" (Dec. 16): Adventurer Allan Quatermain (Sean Connery) leads other legendary figures in a battle against a war-mongering villain. (PG-13: P, V)

Disney's 'Kim Possible' movie proves impossible to resist

"What's the sitch?"

For starters, the appeal of the spunky redhead who coined that catchphrase (referring to the situation) extends beyond those with an affinity for blue glitter lip gloss.

Indeed, Disney Channel's "Kim Possible" is as close to a role model as an animated cheerleader trying to save the world can be.

That's why parents also can appreciate "Kim Possible: A Sitch in Time," premiering Friday, Nov. 28. The movie, which eventually will be broken down into three episodes, takes Kim (voice of Christy Carlson Romano) back to her preschool days and her first meeting with best friend Ron Stoppable (voice of Will Friedle). No time travel would be complete without some action in the future, and Kim and her buddies find a world of new trouble waiting.

The movie explains the many characters for viewers who have not tuned in to the series during its first season and a half, and has enough fun moments to entertain adults. As for educational value, there is enough substance here to start a discussion on the beauty of democracy versus the terror of dictatorship.

In the future, villain Shego (voice of Nicole Sullivan) rules, and, like any dictator, she has taken over everything from people's minds to television and fashion. She is wicked, sadistic and vengeful, and if that's not bad enough, everyone must wear her favorite color - plutonium green.

But before viewers see a future where Rufus the naked mole rat (voice of Nancy Cartwright), who usually just squeaks, evolves into Rufus 3000 (voice of Michael Dorn), a well-muscled and well-spoken leader, our heroine needs to get through a new day of school.

The story begins with Kim, the pleasant high-school student, starting a new school year. She and Ron have every class together. "It's like a pre-k flashback, without the naps," Ron says.

The sometimes dim but always lovable Ron can't wait for Latin class, blissfully unaware of the conjugations that await him and hoping for "salsa dancing and salsa eating."

"Ron is the guy who was your friend in high school who always had the best intentions," Friedle says from Los Angeles. "Yet every time he was around you, you got in trouble."

Life seems to be on track for the pals until they walk past Ron's house and find a "For Sale" sign out front. This is Ron's parents' way of telling him they are moving to Norway, where he will suffer eating lamb and cabbage stew and meat cakes. His mom (voice of Andrea Martin) was offered a job she couldn't refuse, and his dad (voice of Elliott Gould) is "an actuary and I can work anywhere," as he loves to say, so it is farewell to Middleton, USA.

After a tearful goodbye, Kim settles down to life without Ron, who contacts her every five minutes on his "Kimunicator," a nifty wireless computer and phone.

One night, Kim is awakened because Lord Monkey Fist, a human with monkey hands and feet, is breaking into the Tricity Museum to steal a headless monkey statue. The villains unite to find the head, which can be used to wreak evil when attached to the body.

Naturally, the bad guys encounter Kim, pal Monique (voice of Raven) and Ron, who arrives after fleeing Norway by ridiculous means. But, hey, in the cartoon world, Ron sneaking out of his house, speed skiing, riding camels and elephants, and traveling to Australia and Africa to help save the world is nothing compared to Duff Killigan, the world's most dangerous golfer, turning into a belligerent Scottish cyborg constantly sending exploding golf balls airborne.

While some elements of the movie are silly, there are many that are noble. Kim and her pals are on the side of truth and justice. Whether as a 4-year-old, 12-year-old or her usual 15-year-old self, Kim knows no fear. She fights valiantly despite the odds.

"Kim is an action fighting teen hero in your face," Romano says during a break from her political science studies at Columbia University. "She is a really confident, sweet girl who everybody loves. And she is a heroine who little girls look up to. And that explains why the merchandise is so successful at Wal-Mart and Target."

Walking into a store and seeing Kim's likeness emblazoned on T-shirts, pants, school supplies, action figures and fashion dolls "is the best feeling in the world," Romano says. "I very much pride Kim Possible."

"She is a typical role model, perfect in every way. How could you not like Kim?"
